Governors Call On President To Demand Inflation

Roosevelt Prepared to Reveal Farm Prices Are Up 12 Points Average

AAA PROMISES HELP

Adoption of NRA Code for Farmers Included Among Proposals in Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Governors of five farm states called on President Roosevelt today to demand further farm relief formulated at a conference at Des Moines, Ia., which was held as a result of the national farm strike.

The governors were Alfred G. Schmedeman of Wisconsin, Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota, Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, Tom Berry of South Dakota and William Langer of North Dakota.

Herring and Langer received immediate assurance of assistance from the agricultural adjustment administration and applied for a conference with the president to lay before him requests for currency inflation, an NRA code for farmers, pegged prices and farm products and quick mortgage relief.

The president was prepared for the conference by statistics from his interpreting economist in which it was figured that the purchasing power of farmers had been increased about 20 per cent between March and October.

The figures of the economist showed that farm prices had advanced in this period an average of 12 points in the commodity index while industrial prices were advancing an average of only 9 points.

Governor Herring explained on arriving here that the governors' purpose was to speed up relief for the debt ridden farmer, something which he said he felt had not been done.

"We need immediate increases in the price level," Herring said. "It doesn't matter much how it is done. One of the most important things, we feel, is the adoption of a code. If prices can be brought up to a fair level other matters will almost take care of themselves."

Relief inadequate Herring said the farm mortgage relief passed at the last session of congress had proved "inadequate." The federal land banks,

KIDNAPING VICTIM ON WITNESS STAND

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Pale and nervous, Mary McElroy today testified at the trial of George McGee, whom the state seeks to hang for kidnapping her.

His older brother, Walter McGee, was sentenced to die on the gallows exactly one month after Miss McElroy was abducted from her bath by armed men last May 27. He has appealed.

Miss McElroy today testified she was threatened with death and chained in a cellar until her father, H. F. McElroy, city manager of Kansas City, paid $30,000 for her release. She identified George McGee as the armed guard at the door of her prison.

SWOPE OFFERS CONTROL PLAN FOR NRA CODES

Would Turn Administration Over to Council of Industrial Leaders

BULLETIN WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Gerard Swope's plan for industrial self-government today won the endorsement of Roger W. Babson, noted economist.

"We must either control industry, ourselves as business men," he told the United Press, "or face the alternative of having it done for us, as has been the case in Italy, Germany and Russia."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—A crisis in the affairs of the NRA marked by charges that it is meddling and dictatorial was met today by consideration of a plan to turn code administration over to a national council of industrial leaders working in conjunction with government officials.

The plan was advanced by Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, and provided that industry and commerce would police and regulate itself, dealing with code violators among its members even to the point of turning them over for federal prosecution.

Swope's proposal was presented to the commerce department's business advisory and planning council soon after adoption of a critical resolution by the National Association of Manufacturers, and a statement by Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that there was "much dissatisfaction with the NRA's activities."

The plan quickly won the endorsement of Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, if it provided for corresponding organization for labor "all the way through" and Swope accepted that in toto. Harriman also endorsed the plan in principle as a desirable alternative to possible failure of the NRA through its becoming "just a government bureaucracy."

The Swope plan provided that the national governing council be made up of regional trade association representatives. It also would include representatives of government departments, and maintain extensive research and statistical staffs. Johnson said the government would exercise "very direct and intimate supervision" over the council.

This shift of emphasis to self-regulation of business, rather than government direction and supervision coincides with an impending barnstorming tour by General Johnson to seek greater public support for the NRA. The reaction which follows his trip may have a bearing on whether there is to be any major shift of tactics in the recovery drive.

Imperils Industry The resolution of the powerful manufacturers' association said recent rulings and instructions relating to administration of codes imperiled industrial self-government.

It declared that "sound employment relationships must be established in the light of local plant and community conditions."

Harriman said that the permanent value of the NRA would be enhanced if the program was carried out by business under government supervision to see that the interests of the people are protected.

"The government can't get anywhere policing industry any more than it could police the 18th amendment," he said. "Business must police itself."

There will be a big job for such a council if it comes into being. Less than 20 per cent of the codes that

PROMISES TO HALT GAMBLING ARE MADE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—(UP)—A pledge to suppress all gambling in Mexico, and particularly the Agua Caliente casino near San Diego, Calif., if he were elected president next year was made today by General Antonio Villareal, leading opposition candidate.

Agua Caliente, Villareal told the United Press, attracted the most vicious type of American, and it and the casino near here were responsible for decreased morality. Villareal promised also to suppress the national lottery.

Jap Troops Quit China; Move North

Army of Occupation Withdraws from 141 Passes Inside Great Wall

PEIPING, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The Japanese army of occupation today began a sweeping movement of evacuation of all its positions inside the great wall of China, and withdrew from 141 passes through the ancient barricade.

The movement was accomplished, it was believed, after a new "understanding" had been reached between the Japanese and Chinese. It released at least one full division of troops, now available for operations in the north, where the Japanese-Soviet quarrel over the Chinese Eastern railway still is critical. Evacuation of the great wall positions will permit a heavy troop movement towards Harbin.

The passes now released include six of the major "doors" through the great wall, among them Shan-ai, and Kupeikou, where much loss of life was piled up when the Japanese forces captured them.

The military operation coincided with important conversations in Peiping between the Japanese minister, Ariyoshi, and General Huang Fu, chairman of the Peiping political council, which have been watched with interest by foreign diplomats here.

In many circles today's action was regarded as indicating a definite agreement between the Japanese and Chinese, permitting a strengthening of Tokyo's troops in the north.

Officials of the Soviet embassy, when informed of the evacuation, remarked cryptically, "That's interesting."

MEMBER OF KELLY GANG MAKES BREAK

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Federal officers who broke up the Bailey-Kelly gang of kidnapers closed in today on Verne C. Miller, last of the band that terrorized the midwest with its criminal daring.

The former South Dakota sheriff shot his way out of an elaborate trap set last night by federal agents. His automobile, bloodstained, was found later. His wife was arrested in a hotel apartment they had occupied.

Miller was described by federal officers as the most desperate gunman outside of prison. He is credited with handling the machine gun in the union station massacre in which five men were killed in Kansas City last June 17.

Senator Kendrick, who has a suit pending to oust the board on charges the members were elected illegally, in obtaining the injunction to block the loan, Whiting complained the negotiations involved the pledge of all the stock of the bankrupt company.

PRICE OF GOLD IS RAISED TEN CENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The government today raised its price on newly mined American gold to $32.36 an ounce from the $32.26 level of yesterday. The price was an overnight advance of 10 cents an ounce.

Today's Washington price was 21 cents above the world price set at London today.

The London price today was 133 shillings 3 pence, up 1 shilling 6 pence from yesterday. Based on the early high exchange rate for the pound at London ($4.82 1-2) this was equivalent to $32.15 an ounce.

The dollar on this basis was worth $3.83 cents as against $4.07 cents yesterday.

EVERYTHING AMERICANS EAT DESTINED TO BE TAXED FOR BENEFIT OF U. S. FARMERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Almost everything Americans eat and drink apparently is destined to be taxed for the benefit of the farmer. Fruit and vegetables are all that so far have escaped taxes or consideration for taxing in the agricultural adjustment campaign.

Even whiskey, bootleg or legal, will give its toll on the grain it contains. There probably will be levies on the ingredients of ice cream sodas, custard pies and waffles. There is hardly any dish concoctable by the housewife which will not be taxed.

The taxes in each individual instance are expected to be infinitesimal, but in their aggregate are intended to make about a billion dollars a year available to the farmers in cash. This increased agricultural purchasing power is intended to benefit the nation as a whole.

Processing taxes already have been levied on fundamental food products, including wheat, corn and hogs. These taxes lead to a host of levies on competing products which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is attempting to fix.

A hearing has brought out testimony that beef, fish, poultry, eggs and vegetable oils all competed with pork products and hence should be taxed.

Walter Seiler, pilot, was injured, physicians believed slightly.

The crash occurred either just before or just after the plane left the water of the harbor, bound for its regular trip across Catalina channel for Wilmington.

In some manner, the craft escaped control and overturned in the choppy water. Moore and Baker were knocked unconscious by the impact, and it was not immediately determined whether they had died of injuries or been drowned.

A shore patrol boat of the U. S. coast guard set out from the Avalon pier immediately after the crash and soon retrieved Seiler and the bodies of Moore and Baker from the floating wreckage.

Seiler was taken to Catalina hospital for treatment.

The big plane had set out for the mainland for the day's first load of passengers.

It was not established immediately whether Baker or Seiler was at the controls.

SENATOR KENDRICK IS REPORTED DYING

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 2.—(UP)—United States Senator John B. Kendrick, of Wyoming, today was reported near death in Memorial hospital here after a cerebral hemorrhage suffered last night.

Senator Kendrick became ill at his home about 9 p. m. He was taken to the hospital at 10:30 p. m. and lapsed into a coma shortly thereafter, from which he had not aroused.

Dr. W. H. Roberts said that his condition was most critical.

Kendrick, a former state senator and former governor of Wyoming, has represented his state continuously in the United States senate since 1917.

Pilot Taken To Hospital Badly Hurt

Son-in-law of Late Rear Admiral Moffatt, Akron Victim Perishes

VALON, Catalina Island, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Two men, one of them E. McFarlane Moore, son-in-law of the late Rear Admiral William A. Moffatt, who perished in the Akron crash, were killed today when the ten-passenger amphibian that plies between Catalina island and the mainland crashed in Avalon Bay.

George Baker, co-pilot, was the other victim. Moore was general manager of the transportation company.

Walter Seiler, pilot, was injured, physicians believed slightly.

The crash occurred either just before or just after the plane left the water of the harbor, bound for its regular trip across Catalina channel for Wilmington.

ATTACKS PROPOSED STATE WATER PLAN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Governor Rolph and other proponents of the $170,000,000 Central Valley water project are working a future hardship on California agriculture by supporting a venture that would increase over-production, according to Fred G. Athearn of San Francisco, former corporation commissioner.

"Many of our field crops, such as grain and cotton, have suffered for several years from over-production," Athearn said. "President Roosevelt recognizes this and has induced farmers throughout the country to plow under thousands of acres of cotton and grain."

"When the consumers in California are asked to support a measure on the grounds that it will increase agricultural production, they should reflect that even now they are paying a processing tax for the purpose of producing a fund out of which farmers are to be compensated for curtailing, rather than increasing, the production of our farms."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Two bottles of cyanide purchased here last April were signed for in handwriting today as that of A. L. Cline, wealthy ex-convict held in California under suspicion of murder.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—A legal attack on the constitutionality of the "gold redemption" prohibitions of the national banking act began in district supreme court today when Halsey K. Davis of New York filed a petition asking to force Secretary of Treasury Woodin to pay him 20 gold dollars on a 20 gold certificate.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 2.—(UP)—An offer of 5 per cent royalty for oil taken from state tideland pools at Huntington Beach is ridiculous and is "an insult to any state official pledged to administer the laws and protect the property of the state," Finance Director Roland A. Vandegrift said today.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Reports that A. L. Cline, wealthy robbery suspect, purchased two bottles of poison from a Las Vegas drug store led two investigators to the Nevada city today as authorities pried deeper into circumstances surrounding the sudden death of his wife and three other persons who bequeathed him their worldly goods.

The reports emanated from San Bernardino where Cline was arrested on a charge of robbing Martin Frame, well-to-do Los Angeles man, of $240 while Frame was under the influence of drugs.

DAVID WETTLIN TAKE ACTION TO PREVENT NEW CRISIS

SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

Prominent Santa Ana Attorney Withdraws Plea For Probation

COMING AS a shock to his hundreds of friends and court attaches D. G. Wettlin, prominent Santa Ana attorney, who recently pleaded guilty to a charge of grand theft, appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen this morning and withdrew his application for probation. Wettlin waived time for pronouncement of judgment and was sentenced to serve from one to 10 years in San Quentin.

Courtroom attaches were stunned when B. Z. McKinney, attorney for Wettlin, notified the court of Wettlin's intention to withdraw his application for probation. In withdrawing the application McKinney said that it appeared that a greater number of Wettlin's friends had come to his assistance and had signed letters and petitions requesting that he be granted probation.

He said that these friends have been "put on the spot" for interceding and that to save them from further embarrassment Wettlin desired to withdraw his application and receive sentence.

McKinney said that in withdrawing his application for leniency Wettlin wanted his friends to know that he appreciated their support.

After passing sentence on Wettlin, Judge Allen went to his chambers where he said that it was the most difficult thing that he had ever been called upon to do in his experience as a judge.

Wettlin maintained his composure while receiving sentence, but broke down and wept when District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton put their arms about his shoulders and spoke to him. He was removed to the county jail where he will remain until his transfer to San Quentin.

Several weeks ago Wettlin appeared before the district attorney and asked that a complaint be issued against him charging grand theft. He told the district attorney that he had borrowed approximately $2100 from the estate of Jacob M. Halist, of which he had been named administrator. He said that because of business conditions he could not repay the money.

Taken into justice court Wettlin waived his preliminary and went into superior court where he pleaded guilty and asked for probation.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Contractors failing to conform to recovery acts, both federal and state, will not be given California highway jobs until legality of such awards has been determined, said Lee Kelly, director of public works, said today.

Attorney General U. S. Webb will be asked for an opinion in the matter, according to Kelly. In the meantime, the director said he would hold up award of contracts to asserted non-conformists who had submitted low bids.

"I believe the legality of the entire state code will be tested by this opinion," Kelly said. "We want to abide by every effort to aid recovery but we are faced with the fact that state law says our contracts must go to the lowest responsible bidders."

MRS. ROOSEVELT IS PUBLISHER OF BOOK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—A lot of men, "both worthy and unworthy," probably will be president before any woman is, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt declared in her book, "Its Up To The Women," published today.

Nevertheless, she believes that the goal is equal rights between men and women not only in politics but in labor and in the whole human field, although she thinks women in industry should be protected by special legislation.

The book of 268 pages discusses diets and household budgets, occupations for women and economic conditions, vacations and peace, marriage and children and grandmothers, church workers and the servant problem, and the fact that she herself spends more, proportionately, on underwear than on her outer garments because she has a weakness for wide underthings.

German Demands for Return of Saar Basin in German Flag Incite People

DECREES ARE ISSUED

Seek to Curtail Speakers Who Exhort Population to Revolt Against Rule

SAARBRUCKEN, Saar Basin, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Nazi activities threatening grave trouble between France and Germany brought a series of stern repressive decrees today from the League of Nations commission governing this internationalized territory.

German demands for immediate return of the territory to the German flag have so inflamed the population that French authorities feared an outbreak—and the rest of Europe has feared that, if there were an outbreak, France would send troops into the territory.

Anxious lest inaction lead to a French-German crisis, the league governing commission decreed:

1. Prison terms and fines for carrying arms are increased.

2. The commission will control display of flags.

3. Civil servants must observe strictest neutrality under pain of prison sentences.

4. The commission will control solicitation of funds for political groups.

5. Exposure of government secrets or terrorist activities designed to control the 1935 plebiscite vote will be punished by prison sentences at hard labor.

6. Police and gendarmes who refuse to enforce the above decrees will be punished by imprisonment for from two to five years at hard labor.

The decrees were aimed directly at curtailing Nazi activities and preventing an armed outbreak. Nazi speakers have exhorted the population to revolt, and even children give the Nazi salute.

The Saar basin, immensely wealthy in coal and ore deposits, nestles like a piece from a jigsaw puzzle between Germany and France. By the Versailles treaty, the product of its mines was awarded to France for 15 years in compensation for French coal mines destroyed by the German army. A plebiscite was set for 1935 in which the population would vote (1) to revert to German rule; (2) to become French; (3) to continue under a league of nations governing commission of five.

Germans remember bitterly the upper Silesian plebiscite, and fear something like that may happen to the Saar—now France's principal source of coal supply. Upper Silesia declared for Germany but was awarded to Poland—1,241 square miles of territory, 892,537 people.

While the population of the Saar basin is German unanimously and vociferously, Germans fear France may seek to postpone the plebiscite or by other means retain control of the resources.

BURMAH WHITE CASE IS GIVEN TO JURY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(UP)—With apparently only a slender chance they would acquit, the jury in the case of Burmah Adams White, widow of a slain bandit who is charged with 11 felonies, retired shortly after noon today to deliberate.

The young blonde defendant saw the mainstay of her defense badly shaken by the closing words of Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron, who charged the jury that fear of death at some future time is not a legal excuse for committing a crime.

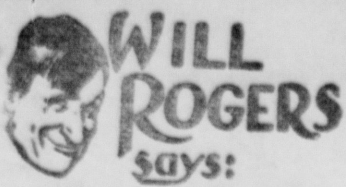

Mrs. White had contended that she assisted in the crimes of Thomas White, her bandit husband, because he threatened to kill her if she did not.

NEW POLITICAL REVOLT LOOMS IN CUBA TODAY

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 2. (To the Editor of The Register.) Up in Dingville, Iowa, named for the great cartoonist, Ding, and sometimes called Des Moines, the farmers and the governors are in convention. It don't take a convention to tell that the farmers are in a bad plight. The speeches are all made by farm leaders. Now what is a farm leader? I was raised on a farm, we had farm hands, farm hired girls, farm horses, farm mortgages (not many), but I never saw a farm that raised farm leaders. This leader thing is a type of growth that has sprung up since everybody started joining organizations, not only in farming, but in everything. In the old days if you was smart enough to be in a business, you was smart enough to tend to your own business, without listening to a leader make a speech.

Yours for less leaders and less followers of leaders.
WILL ROGERS.

PAYROLLS IN STATE REPORTED AS HIGHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Substantial increases in California industrial payrolls and in employment during the month of September as compared with the preceding month were reported today by T. A. Reardon, director of the department of industrial relations.

The report, prepared for the governor's council, showed increases of 12.1 per cent in employment, 14.6 in payrolls and 2.2 per cent in average weekly earnings in September as compared with August.

In comparison with September, 1932, records the survey last month showed a 25.8 per cent employment gain and a 30 per cent payroll increase.

SIX INJURED IN SERIES OF AUTO CRASHES

Six persons were hurt in three traffic accidents in Orange county yesterday and this morning, four near Seal Beach, one at El Modena and one east of Fullerton.

Four persons were taken to the Long Beach Community hospital yesterday morning as the result of a wreck on Bay boulevard near Bolsa road. Miss June Rodgers of Long Beach is still confined with serious injuries while R. A. Miller, Long Beach, driver Reggie West, Long Beach, and Miss Wanda Clark, Norwalk, have been taken home. The wreck occurred when the light coupe in which they were riding turned over while rounding a turn at excessive speed, according to reports.

Marion Spear, writer of Western historical tales, is in the Fullerton General hospital with a severe head injury following an accident at Placentia and Orange-thorpe avenues at 4 a. m. today in which he lost control of his car and ran into a telephone pole.

Henry J. Morton, 44, Alhambra, narrowly escaped serious injury at 2:30 a. m. today when his car struck a telephone pole near the bottom of the El Modena grade and swerved into some shrubbery at the home of J. R. Fletcher, deputy county assessor.

George Bartley of Orange was called and placed Morton under arrest for reckless driving. Bartley said Morton had been drinking and was alone at the time of the wreck.

Morton was given first aid treatment at the Orange County hospital for cuts and bruises and a badly bruised arm. Bartley transferred him to the county jail at 3:30 a. m. and brought him before Judge A. W. Swayze in Orange this morning. He was fined $50 for reckless driving and had $25 suspended.

FARM BUREAU IN ANNUAL MEETING

Directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau, holding their annual meeting today in the offices of the Farm Bureau, devoted the entire morning session to receiving reports from the chairmen of the various departments of the bureau.

These reports covering departmental activities during the fiscal year just ending were read into the records by the various chairmen. A resolution adopted by the water committee of the Farm Bureau, expressing opposition to the Central valley water project will be presented early in the afternoon session, it was expected by R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the farm bureau.

The principal item of business scheduled for the later session is election of officers for the new year. President R. J. McFadden of Placentia, whose term expires this day, is presiding at the sessions.

he added, were proving of little use to the farmer.

"Many of them do not know how to avail themselves of the law," Herring said. "It is too slow and another installment of taxes and interest has accrued since then."

In a statement issued on their arrival Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Farm Administrator Peek said:

"These men want to bring about the same things that we are fighting to accomplish, that is, the raising of incomes of farmers and effective control of production in such a way as to sustain higher prices."

LAST PERFORMANCE OF BENEFIT TONIGHT

Final presentation of "Married by Mail," three-act comedy produced as a benefit for the Santa Ana Unemployed Association, will be made in the Santa Ana High school auditorium at 8:15 this evening.

The fast-moving play, said to be one of the funniest of its kind ever written, drew many laughs before an appreciative audience last night. A cast of 16 players, directed by Virginia and Robert Deane, of Santa Ana, spent several weeks in rehearsals, as their performance indicated.

Several former high school and junior college students are seen in the production, including the Santa Ana Junior college quartet of Mark Hare, Bill Fox, Rutherford Williams and Clark Brown.

COMPLIANCE BOARD SEEKS $300 FUND

Application from the State Recovery Board of the N. R. A. for $300 to finance work of the Orange County compliance board has been referred by the supervisors to the district attorney to determine whether or not the county can make such appropriation.

The request, in the form of a letter from the state board, was presented by Supervisor W. C. Jerome, Jerome said that Ray Adkinson, chairman of the local board, had given it to him, without comment, for presentation to the board. Jerome said that a similar request, only for $1500, had been made to the supervisors of Los Angeles county and was referred to the county counsel. He said that on a basis of population the requests were not proportionate.

is survived by his widow and three children.

There were no known witnesses to the actual crash. Bystanders said at one moment the huge amphibian was taxiing across the harbor, the next it lay upside down on the surface.

The ten-passenger plane had set out for Wilmington, its mainland terminus, 22 miles distant for the day's first load of passengers. It was not immediately established whether Baker or Seiler was at the controls.

Mrs. Baker and Seiler were the only occupants.

An operative of the United States Department of Commerce left the mainland shortly after noon to investigate the crash.

The trans-channel air line last night completed statistics showing that since its beginning in June, 1931, 36,840 passengers had been flown 125,000 miles without injury.

BOARD ORDERS NO PHEASANT HUNTING HERE

In spite of the fact that there will be an open season of 5 days on pheasants in California this month, Orange county will remain closed. Under the state law the pheasant season will be open from November 15 to 20.

County Clerk J. M. Backs, acting under instructions of the board of supervisors, this morning instructed Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton to prepare for presentation Tuesday at the supervisors' meeting, an emergency ordinance prohibiting the shooting of pheasants at any time in this county.

This action was taken to preserve and propagate the birds already in the county. The supervisors said that there are very few pheasants in the county and that inasmuch as pheasants, unlike other game birds, mate permanently, a five day open season on cocks would almost stop the breeding of the birds in this county.

HAWKINS NEW HEAD OF H. S. JUNIORS

Continuing the Santa Ana high school class elections the juniors yesterday named their leaders for the current semester.

There were many candidates nominated for each office, from whom were chosen: Bill Hawkins, president; Victor Rowland, vice-president; and Ferne Berkner, secretary.

The sophomores conclude the week's elections this afternoon when they choose their officers, and complete the setting for student activity for the remainder of the semester.

have been drawn up have been approved finally by the president, NRA figures show.

These figures give a picture of the amount of work still ahead in the recovery drive if the original program to put every industry under a code is carried through.

The complaint most frequently voiced against NRA is that it has sought to spread out too far, to take in too many industries of minor importance, to reach out and direct the affairs of even small retailers far away.

FORUM SESSION TO BE HELD AT S.A.H.S.

John Beardsley, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, will speak in the auditorium of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night and not in the Willard school auditorium, it was announced today. He will speak under the auspices of the Santa Ana Forum at the high school, Ross and Walnut streets.

Beardsley, well known in Los Angeles county where he has been active in political and public affairs, will speak on the subject, "The State of Our Liberties."

The speaker is one of the more prominent lawyers of Los Angeles and has specialized on the subject of constitutional law, especially as it protects the personal liberty and rights of individuals.

As the attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union he has represented many whose rights have been in jeopardy.

W. M. Burke, chairman of the Forum, will preside at the session. There will be opportunity for questions and discussion by those that attend. There is no admission fee, and the public is invited.

LEGISLATIVE AIDES ARE MARRIED HERE

Paul Mason, Sacramento attorney, chief assistant to J. M. Beek, secretary of the state senate, and Miss Florence Evelyn Iverson, of Balboa, secretary to Beek, were married this morning by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Mason and Miss Iverson were issued their license yesterday and were married this morning in the chambers of Judge Allen. Mrs. Forest A. Gaydon, accompanied the couple as their witnesses.

STATE'S RECOVERY ACTIVITIES DOOMED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 2. —(UP)—Possibility that California recovery administration activities may be halted was seen today with announcement of Roland A. Vandegrift, finance director, that the state had no more money to advance for carrying out provisions of the act.

Vandegrift yesterday provided $5,500 from the state emergency fund to Edwin M. Daugherty, CRA director, with which to meet October bills of the administration. This was the last sum available for such purposes, the finance director said.

Expenses of the CRA amount to approximately $30,000 monthly, Daugherty reported. The legislature in passing the law failed to appropriate funds for its administration.

employees to leave the premises during the lunch period already had been granted and the time was extended to 45 minutes.

Regarding the hour and wage demand, the company said it hoped conditions soon would permit not only a $5 day, or $7, the minimum until 1935, but even a higher rate. "If the law," the statement continued, "prohibits men from working more than 35 hours a week, wages for 35 hours will be paid. When the law permits men to work 40 hours a week, wages for 40 hours will be paid, and the company will maintain, so far as the conditions of business permit, its five-day week of eight hours."

The aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce has been reorganized so that it now comprises two major divisions instead of three, as before.

Now! A Quicker Way to Ease Pain

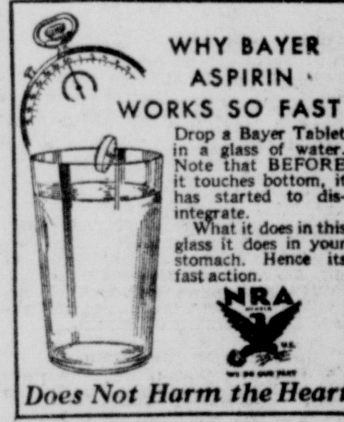

Don't Forget Real BAYER Aspirin Starts "Taking Hold" in Few Minutes

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer tablet starts to disintegrate or dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

Causes of Sickness Found - FREE X-Ray

Every ailment, ache and pain, has a traceable cause! It doesn't "just grow," or break out in a certain part of your body without reason. The cause may be remote from the pain—at the source of nervous energy supply, for example, which is from the brain through the backbone. The cause must be found before it can be treated. That is the purpose of our X-Ray examination and analysis, a service given WITHOUT CHARGE to sick people, which shows the cause of the ailment and all facts about the condition of the body. Please present this ad.

WATER PROTECTS RUBBER

that's why you get 30% more mileage by getting new Goodyears now!

OF COURSE you want the grip of tough new rubber between your brakes and the road in fall and winter—when there's more slippery driving than any other time in the year.

And now—scientific tests prove that tires "broken in" during wet, cold weather average 30% more total mileage. Hot summer roads make tires wear faster.

But roads are cool in winter—and most of the time they're wet. That means danger when your tires are thin and worn. But it means protection for stout new rubber, because the water prevents rapid wear by preventing friction between the tire and the road.

Can you afford to wait till spring when new Goodyear Pathfinders are selling today at prices just about the same as a year ago?

Not on your life! Get new Goodyears now!

DYNAMITE THEFT, EXPLOSION SOLVED

Investigation in the mysterious explosion of a garbage can on October 23 led to the arrest of two boys by Santa Ana police yesterday for the theft of dynamite and caps from the Irvine ranch company on October 22.

R. C. Bray of the Irvine ranch told sheriff's officers that the explosives were stolen from a locked box on the ranch and warned officers to be on the watch for explosions. When the garbage can exploded, following the theft, some connection was believed to exist between the two boys.

The two boys, aged 14 and 15, were taken to the juvenile home yesterday. They readily admitted their guilt and said they blew up the can for amusement.

DAIRMEN TO MEET TONIGHT ON AGREEMENT

A meeting of the Orange County Dairymen's association will be held in the shop building at Willard Junior High school, at 7:30 o'clock tonight to consider the signing of the Los Angeles milk agreement, it was announced today by C. H. Christie, secretary-manager of the organization.

Christie, who also is secretary of the Orange County Milk Producers, Inc., said that a similar meeting of that organization was scheduled for this afternoon.

The milk agreement was supposed to have been signed by 5 o'clock this afternoon, but Christie obtained permission to extend the time until tomorrow morning to discuss the matter of signing the agreement at the Orange county meetings.

If the code is signed it will mean a drop in milk prices, Christie said. It was not certain tonight, however, that it would be signed here, Christie said. Milk prices in Orange county are not the same as in Los Angeles.

The present price of milk here is 12 cents, both delivered and at stores. It will drop to 11 cents if the agreement is signed by milk operators and by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The price of coffee cream, now 16 cents in Orange county, would drop to 15 cents.

Chief Tortex of the Cahulla Indians, who hail from the Santa Rosa reservation in the San Jacinto mountains, led a band of his braves into Laguna yesterday for a pow-wow on the banks of the central beach with Melkish Killua, their medicine-man, known to the residents of Laguna Beach and other sections as Stephen Chalmers author and poet.

The "pipe of peace" that was handed around the circle squatting on the beach was a cigarette deftly manufactured by the uncentral chief of the tribe from "the makin's." Through an interpreter, who once attended Carlisle Indian school when "Pop" Warner and Jim Thorpe were doing things in the football world, Melkish Killua (Steve to the home folks) was informed that winter is coming on and it is getting ready to snow around Tahquitz peak and the women and children of the Cahulla tribe are without adequate shelter. The Indian agent, it was explained, following a former pow-wow in which Melkish Killua was one of the squatters, had promised new shacks or to have the old ones made habitable.

Speaking through the interpreter, the medicine-man said he believed the "broken promise" was simply a misunderstanding on the part of the new agent of the reservation, who came when the former agent was transferred to Kansas. He promised to put a bug in the new agent's ear at a pow-wow to be called on the reservation.

Two more federal jobs to be open
Manager of the Fourth United States Civil Service Districts at Washington, D. C., announced today that until November 15 he will accept applications for positions of junior medical officer (interne) at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington.

The basic entrance salary is $2000 a year, with certain reduction for subsistence, etc.

At the same time it was announced that a position is open as an operative, in the secret service, Treasury department, at a salary of from $2600 to $2900 a year.

The salaries named are subject to a deduction of 15 per cent as an economy measure and to a retirement deduction of 3 1-2 per cent.

Full information can be obtained from Frank Cannon, secretary of the United States Civil Service board of examiners, at the post-office.

FIVE PATROLMEN SENT TO FRESNO
Five members of the Orange County squad of the California Highway Patrol will leave tomorrow morning for patrol duty at Fresno, it was learned today from Acting Captain W. W. Meyer.

Captain Henry Meehan notified Meyer by police teletype to dispatch Officers Jack Turton, Horace Inge, George Stinson, Oscar Kelly and Ray Bradford to Fresno. Permission was granted by the board of supervisors Tuesday for the men to leave Orange county for "more than a week."

Meehan gave no indication of how long the men would be detailed in the north but it was believed that they would not return until all indications of strikes and picketing have subsided.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS APPROVE PLAN TO ENDORSE CANDIDATES AND CHANGE IN PRIMARY LAW

Republican leaders of Orange county, last night, authorized Howard Irwin, chairman of the Republican County Central committee to vote, at the state-wide Republican conference in Fresno Saturday, for the conference method of selecting candidates for all partisan state offices.

The instructions were given Irwin in a vote called by the chairman at a meeting held in McFarland's cafe at Fullerton for the purpose of determining the attitude of Orange county Republicans on this revolutionary change in Republican policies.

When the vote was called 17 of the 35 present stood as favoring it. On the negative vote none stood, although some present were known to be opposed.

Irwin also was instructed to support a move to have the Tuller bill reconsidered at the next session of the state legislature. The Tuller bill would change the direct primary law of California retaining the best features of the law and combining them with the best of the convention system of naming candidates, it is claimed.

Ingval W. Bull, chairman of the Los Angeles County Central committee and the Southern Counties committee, was the principal speaker and explained the by-law proposed for adoption at the state-wide meeting.

The proposal is that in May of each even year a state conference of Republicans be held at which time not more than two candidates for each state office be selected as the party candidates for the primary election. Each congressional district would be represented at the parley by 50 delegates.

It was pointed out that through this method of selecting candidates for party support it would be possible to limit candidates and would tend to increase the candidate's responsibility to the party and the party's responsibility to the candidate chosen. Proponents of the proposed measure declared that through this system it would be possible for Southern California to elect the next governor of the state through eliminating many possible contenders.

Opponents to the move objected on the grounds that the conference method of selecting candidates has no legal standing and could be branded as "star chamber" sessions for picking candidates. They also pointed out that such method would result in chaos with prospective candidates for office who were not chosen to carry the party banner combining forces to overthrow the party candidates.

Voice Objections
It was also said by the opposition that such method of picking candidates probably would arouse public resentment. Tom Murphree of San Clemente, speaking against the proposal, termed it "political bootlegging" and declared that should his name be placed upon the ballot through such methods he would petition the court to order its removal.

Proponents of the move declared that the conference method of selecting party banner bearers would give the party greater unity and strength. It would, they said, make it possible for the party to adopt a state platform and be assured that candidates chosen would adhere to that platform. In return for this adherence to the platform, the proponents said, the party would feel a greater responsibility toward the candidates and their campaign.

Touching the national issues briefly during his talk Bull said that the Republican party policy is to support the national administration in everything constructive, prevent that which is destructive and, above all, hold inviolate the Constitution of the United States.

National Matters
He declared that the last Congress, which he termed overwhelmingly Democratic, delegated to President Roosevelt legislative power to make laws and the power to punish violators of those laws. This, Bull declared, is encroaching on the prerogatives of the Supreme Court which always has been the safeguard of the people.

"We realize," he said, "the chaotic condition of the nation and must elect a Republican Congress to safeguard the rights and liberty of our people."

Bull stressed the fact that it is essential that the party organize and all factions work together. He declared that history reveals all progress has been brought about by Republican administrations and that the Democratic party has been the negative and opposition party but never constructive.

He closed by saying that he believed that in 1936 the Republican party will sweep back into power through the people's demand that the Republican party save the nation from the chaotic condition, in which he predicted that it would be by that time.

CATHOLIC MEN MEET SUNDAY IN FULLERTON

With Judge William Tell Aggeler as guest speaker, the men and boys of the Catholic parishes of Orange county will meet next Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's hall, 400 West Commonwealth, Fullerton, for their semi-annual conference under the auspices of the Holy Name society.

Other guests will be Rev. Patrick J. Conannon, who has charge of the Holy Name society of Southern California in the absence of the Very Rev. Mgr. Michael O'Gorman; Rev. Mortimer Murphy of Fullerton and Frank De Giorgio, Al Kluthe and Dave Maxwell, Orange county boys who are members of Tom Liebs' Loyola university football squad.

Judge Aggeler is regarded as one of the best known jurists in Southern California, an able speaker and a native son. Born in Serra county, he taught school and served on the board of education of Humboldt county before entering Michigan university to study law. He was public defender of Los Angeles county for 14 years before his appointment to the superior court.

The Holy Name societies of St. Joseph and St. Ann churches of Santa Ana will attend in a body. George Ravenkamp of Santa Ana is regional director for Orange county as well as vice president of Holy Name union.

250 DELEGATES AT DISTRICT CHURCH MEET

Approximately 250 delegates from all Christian churches in Orange county and Whittier were present yesterday at the Santa Ana District Missionary Convention of the Christian church. Inspirational addresses featured the morning, afternoon and dinner sessions of the parley.

Outstanding mission and religious education workers of the Christian church, including Leo Hawley, secretary of the United Christian Missionary Society, with headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., were in attendance and spoke.

Hawley was accompanied to Santa Ana by Mrs. Evelyn Pearson who, with her husband who is a doctor, has been working in the African mission field for several years; J. H. Mumbower, acting superintendent of missions in Southern California; Wayne A. Neal, director of religious education for Southern California; and Mrs. Mattie J. Adamson, of the Women's Missionary Society of Southern California.

Hawley spoke at both morning and afternoon sessions and at the banquet in the evening. The principal speaker at the morning session was the Rev. Franklin Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church. The topic of his address was "Upward and Outward." In the afternoon Mrs. Pearson was the speaker discussing the work of herself and husband in Africa.

At the banquet in the evening which was attended by 150 delegates, Arthur Reed, of Orange, Mrs. Pearson and Hawley were the speakers.

Council Arranges For Peace Program Nov. 10

ONE-ACT PLAYS SCHEDULED BY ORGANIZATION

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—In keeping with their policy of presenting strong peace material around Armistice day Fullerton International Relations council has arranged for a program November 10 at 8 p. m. at the new auditorium of the Fullerton union high school, where three powerful one-act plays are to be presented.

This annual community program usually brings a large crowd and is designed as a real contribution to the communities served. Dr. Graham C. Hunter is president of the council. Mrs. Francis Davis of Brea is secretary. Dr. Harold Gobar is in charge of ticket sales.

"Pawnee," a play that has received much comment, and "Mothers of Men," both written by Percival Wilde, will be given through the Orange County Little Theater Guild and "The Unknown Soldier," a play based on a sermon presented by Dr. John Haynes Holmes of New York and prepared in drama form by Mrs. Kemp Winkler, will be presented through students of the California Christian college.

Mrs. Marjorie Travers French will direct "Pawnee" and Edward Watkins will direct "Mothers of Men."

"The Unknown Soldier" was arranged for and presented at the Epworth League institute. Harold Erickson is in charge. It is a story surrounding the unknown soldier and what transpired at his grave on Armistice day.

Otis LeRosa, Dan W. T. Boyce and Mrs. French are the committee in charge of the program.

Ushers will be members of the Nightwalkers club, college drama organization, who will be dressed to represent nations of the world.

FACTS ON L. A. STRIKE GIVEN BY W. C. A. GROUP

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—"The only alternative left for the textile workers in Los Angeles was to strike because the wages were cut so low, the hours were increased, and the conditions in the shop were so poor that it was impossible to work there and make a living and many of the workers had to take charity for assistance," Miss Bessie Goren, a Russian Jewess, who is one of the strikers, told the women of the Fullerton District Junior college Y. W. C. A. after a pot luck dinner in the cafeteria last night.

A false idea of the strike and the reasons for it are given in some newspapers, for no one dislikes a strike more than the strikers, Miss Goren said. One of the chief reasons for the strike is that the manufacturers do not want their employees to have a strong union among themselves, she said.

Before the NRA the women received from $2 to $4 a week and its policies raised the wages to about $4 to $9 and the minimum wage for such workers in California is $16 a week, Miss Goren said. Because the work is seasonal and lasts not more than four or five months of the year and the rest of the time is usually spent not in work, the wages are more than ever insufficient, Miss Goren stated.

The strike of the garment workers of New York, about 60,000 strong, brought them a 35-hour week at 90 cents an hour minimum for dresses selling from $9 to $19 under the NRA, but the workers on the Pacific coast have the poorest code yet made because the workers in New York were well organized and could present their demands with a force that the unorganized workers in Los Angeles were unable to do, she said.

The manufacturers plan to get the strikers so tired and hungry that they will beg to have their jobs again therefore the strikers are not bailing any more people out of jail but leaving them there and using the money to keep their commissary running to serve sandwiches and coffee once a day to the strikers and some of them feel that it is a good meal compared with what they usually have, she said.

"I don't know whether more money has been paid to the red squad or what but they are becoming more oppressive and the only thing left for us to do is aggressive picketing," she said.

The strikers are going to abide by the decision of the board of arbitration now meeting but "if the decision is unfavorable to the strikers it will be criminal," Miss Goren said in closing.

Miss Ellasue Lemons, English instructor in the Fullerton District Junior college, spoke on "College Education, Why?" The infancy period of the human race has been prolonged especially in America and is taken up with the training in college, she said. "If the present powers do get out of this depression, which is doubtful, then such economic changes will take place that the workers will be assured a decent and comfortable living with no charity after 20 to 25 years of productive labor and it will be one of the tasks of the education to prepare for the profitable use of leisure time," she said.

At the vesper services held at 5:30 p. m. in the music hall Doris Dull, accompanied by Betty Paekner, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," Louise Kramer, read the "Apostrophe," which is an explanation of the 23rd Psalm; and Frances Holt read the 23rd Psalm.

Former Junior College Students Study In Europe

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Letters from two former Fullerton district Junior college students who are now studying in Europe were received recently by Glenn Lukens, pottery teacher of the college.

Carl Morris, graduate of 1925, is now studying in the School of Arts and Crafts in Vienna. He plans for a year's stay for painting, design and the various crafts.

Erwin Ashenfeld, student during 1921 and 1922, is in Germany. He has not decided where he is to study yet but metals and ceramic arts will be his major study.

WORLD EVENTS REVIEWED FOR CLUB MEMBERS

PLACENTIA, Nov. 2.—In criticisms of youth today, it is well to remember that youth is living in a background prepared by adults, and the criticism applies more to adults than to youth, Mrs. George H. Russell told members of Placentia Round Table Wednesday afternoon, when talking before a large audience at an afternoon session. She is state chairman of national relations.

She reviewed, briefly, the current events of today, calling attention to the present socialistic tendency of the world, the athletic tendencies of Russia, which she said is a country that is gradually developing because it is developing a sense of humor; of the desire of Japan, not so much for expansion, as for gaining the wealth of Manchuria, in her fight against China.

The Polish corridor, which is the "bone of contention" in Europe, rightly belonged to Germany, she said, and continued by saying that except for his anti-Semitic program, Hitler, dictator of Fascist Germany, is doing a good work.

Mrs. L. T. Gillilan presided at the business session. Mrs. George Lillie and Mrs. Arthur Anderson were elected delegates and Mrs. William McLelland and Mrs. Thomas McFadden alternates to the Southern District convention to be held at La Jolla soon.

The musical program was presented by Louise Tate, who gave a group of piano solos. She was introduced by Mrs. Margaret Buttree, her instructor.

Mrs. S. W. McCulloch, Mrs. S. T. Twombly, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. A. W. Miller, Mrs. Nellie Clark and Mrs. E. D. Lang were hostesses.

ing, design and the various crafts. Erwin Ashenfeld, student during 1921 and 1922, is in Germany. He has not decided where he is to study yet but metals and ceramic arts will be his major study.

Head Of Scripps College To Give Address On Nov. 7

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Ernest L. Jaqua, president of Scripps college, will address the Fullerton International Relations council Tuesday, November 7, after a dinner session at 6:15 o'clock at the Fullerton Methodist church.

P-T. A. HOLDS LUNCHEON AND BRIDGE PARTY

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Fullerton Wilshire Parent-Teacher association is planning to add a P-T. A. plaque to those that are posted at the entrance of the city, part of a general program that is being started in the state, and the initial steps were taken yesterday, when Mrs. E. H. King and Mrs. O. W. Freek entertained in the King home at a dessert luncheon, followed by bridge and "500."

A Tennessee bond for two-thirds of 1 cent has been in the U. S. Treasury since the last Harrison was president.

YELLOWJACKETS AND POMONA TO CLASH FRIDAY

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Arthur L. Nunn's Fullerton district junior college Yellowjackets have a right to fear Ira H. Van Cleave's Pomona Lions in the fourth round clash of the eastern division junior college conference clash here tomorrow at 2:45 p. m., observers believe.

It is not because of the Lions record that Nunn has spent considerable time and energy in perfecting his attack, but the fact that the Lions have always played one outstanding game each season in which they upset the dope bucket. Nunn does not want to be on the short end of the score, whatever it may be.

Phil Madison, Pomona right tackle, formerly was a Hornet lineman, playing in 1931. According to Pomona football authorities, Les Wasilchen, giant Greek, is the outstanding lineman in the junior college conference this year. Tidd Wallace, lone Pomona backfield veteran, will divide the fullback position with Lindy Daugherty. Both are considered powerful factors in the new offensive Van Cleave is perfecting.

Although he has not made any definite statement to the effect, it is believed that Coach Nunn will use the same eleven that started against Crafley last week, starting Elmer Pryor at quarter, but changing to Leason Pomeroy earlier in the game than before. With the exception of Pomeroy, there are only four backs available. Pryor, quarterback; Herb Payton and Ciri English, halfbacks, and Heba Player, fullback. John "Monwey" Smith, halfback, is reported to have dropped out of school.

The game is the last home game for the junior college squad.

The probable starting lineups: Fullerton: Pos. Pomona: 34 Brown...LER...Triplet 34 Gaiser...LTR...Madison 36 Pepper...LGR...Edmundson 13 Durand...C...McClintock 24 Oas...RGL...McDowell 22 Simpson...RTL...Wasilchen 29 Zwolsman...REL...Duran 10 Pryor...Q...Porterfield 17 Payton...LHR...Batcheller 20 English...RHL...Leman 37 Player...E...Wallace or Daugherty

Register Office In Hotel Building

The Register's Fullerton office was moved today to the north side of the California Hotel building, corner of Wilshire and North Spadra road, from 246 West Commonwealth avenue. The phone number is Fullerton 550. Mrs. Eva Campbell continues in charge of the office.

LEAVE FOR NORTH PLACENTIA, Nov. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tayles, guests for several days of his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Porter, have left for their home in Bakersfield.

MARION SPEER, OIL MAN, HURT IN CAR CRASH

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Marion Speer, writer of western historical stories, is in the Fullerton General hospital with serious injuries following an accident at Placentia and Orangeflorpe avenues at 4 a. m. today.

Speer, an employee of an oil company at Richfield, was driving to his home near Huntington Beach at the time of the wreck. A Porter, riding with him, told officers that he believed Speer was blinded by lights on an approaching car and ran off the road. The injured man was unconscious for several hours after being rushed to the hospital but he was conscious at noon. He suffered a severe head injury and his condition is considered serious by attending physicians.

The Register welcomes news and Fullerton residents are urged to telephone or bring their items to the branch office, located on the north side of the California hotel building. The phone number is Fullerton 550.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY EVE SAYLESS, pretty assistant manager of a department store, secretly marries DICK RADER, a construction engineer. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

The same day Eve learns that she is to go to New York for the weekend and must leave that night. Dick takes her to the station but she runs out the week in New York she has no word from him. The day after she is busy. She meets THERON REECE who is much attracted by her and she visits IRVING PRENTISS, a former schoolmate who is playing the stock market and advises Eve to do the same.

On her return to Lake City Dick takes Eve to the fashionable Hotel Miramar where he has engaged a suite. At the office Eve finds a new copy writer, MONA ALLEN, who appears to be a trouble-maker. Dick and Eve are in the hotel dining room one evening when Eve sees Theron Reece. He recognizes her and comes to their table. She tells Dick she thinks they should move from the hotel. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII There were several columns of advertisements of furnished apartments for rent in the Sunday newspaper. Eve and Dick had decided to rent a furnished place because Dick was only temporarily located in Lake City. The main office of the company he worked for were in Chicago but Dick had been in Lake City for more than a year superintending the construction of a theater combined with a huge office building. The theater was to open in March but it would be June before everything would be completed. Dick hoped his next job also would be in Lake City. Eve refused even to consider the possibility that he might be sent elsewhere.

The first apartment they visited was impressive. Eve glanced about the reception room and approved its furnishings. Even when she had learned how high the rent was she still wanted to live there.

But Dick would not listen to her argument that she could pay part of the rent. "No," he said, "we're going to live within my income and save some of it too, because I have plans for the future. It takes capital before anyone can be independent."

The next address on the list proved equally discouraging. At last they stopped before an old house on the opposite side of the city. It stood at the corner of a main thoroughfare and tree-lined side street.

"This house needs paint," Eve objected. "There's no use bothering to go inside. Look—the front steps are broken, too. I like the place next door better."

"That house next door is the home of the soap magnate, John North," Dick told her. "I used to room a few blocks from here."

The woman who owned the house was a widow. She and her two sons and daughter occupied one section of the rambling old mansion and the rest had been divided into apartments. Once inside, Eve had to admit the charm of the place. The walls were thick and the ceilings high. Doorways were arched and the heavy ivory woodwork was magnificent. The vacant apartment was at the front on the main floor. It had cream colored walls and mahogany doors. Four windows reaching to the floor made a square "bay," and ruffled curtains were tied back to permit a view of the snow-covered lawn.

"We have a rose garden in summer and hollyhocks and all sorts of old-fashioned flowers," Mrs. Brooks announced. "The garden was my husband's hobby."

"Why these rooms are lovely! We must take them," gasped Eve, much to her own surprise. "And I think we can move in today."

Huntington Beach Well Flows 6400 Barrels Daily

SPEIK CONCERN ADDS PRODUCER ON NINETEENTH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 2.—The Speik Oil company has brought in a well here which sets a new record for Huntington Beach. The well is said to be doing 6400 barrels of 27-gravity oil a day. The well is located on Nineteenth street between Ocean and Walnut avenues. The gas production is not large, in which respect the well differs from the enormous 25,000,000 and 50,000,000 gasers brought in by the Wilshire Oil company, Terno Oil company and Sinaroo Oil company, within half a block of the Speik well.

The big gasers were in some instances redrilled and the gas production lowered and the oil production increased. But the Speik Oil company well apparently has just sufficient gas to create the tremendous oil flow. The well flowed 5600 barrels the first day and 6400 the second day and is now beamed back to produce the 200 barrels allowable for new wells under curtailment, for the first few weeks, when it will be given its allowable, which will run around 1000 barrels a day. L. H. Benningdorf of this city is superintendent and part owner of the Speik Oil company.

Present Play At Laguna Saturday

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 2.—John B. Hughes, director of the Community players, will repeat "Rip Van Winkle" Saturday night. They are "The Women Folks" and two other comedies translated from the French.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—Miss Margaret Clinton was hostess at her home on Amery street this week to members of the Bolsterous Bunions Girls' club. Decorations were reminiscent of the season. Refreshments were served following a number of games.

Those present included the Misses Mary Eastwood, Rose Basse, Francis Hill, Virginia Ferguson, Virginia Turpin, Barbara Campbell, Betty Hanline and Margaret Clinton.

Club Members In Oceanview Party

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 2.—A Halloween party for the Musettes Music club took place in the barn of Conrad Worthy at which 20 members enjoyed games and stunts.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts, punch and candy were served by the committee composed of Carol McCormick and Virginia and Dorothy De La Vergne.

BOYS' CLASS IN HALLOWE'EN PARTY

BREA, Nov. 2.—Halloween was observed by the Knights of King Jesus' Round Table when they invited several little friends to share a party with them in the cabin of the Christian church Monday night. Hostesses for the group were Mrs. Pat Wayland, Mrs. L. O. McCabe, Mrs. C. C. Shipman and Miss Elva Moore.

Boys of the club are Raymond Woodruff, Kenneth and Duard McCabe, Hollis Lawson, Jack Shipman and William Wayland, with small Eugene McCabe as their mascot. Guests present in addition to the host group were Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Woodruff, Mrs. D. K. Craig, Miss Lillian Craig and Elwood Brown, all of Maywood; Miss Lucy Craig and Bonnie Shipman, Pearl and Emma Jane Lawson, Nadine Wayland, Esther Perdue, Edna Moore and Marguerite Dike.

Games were played and refreshments were served, all carrying out the Halloween motif. The cabin was decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins, small gourds with jack-o'-lantern faces were used for candy containers and witch pots over tripods held hot chocolate and popcorn.

Junior Auxiliary Elects Officers

TUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Miss Mary Louise Leinberger was chosen president of the American Legion Junior auxiliary at the first election of the girls' organization held recently in the home of their supervisor, Mrs. Hilda Riehl. Others elected to office were Miss Mary Jean Park, first vice president; Miss Virginia Riehl, secretary; Miss Barbara Young, sergeant at arms.

Following the business session, the girls started work on a "sun-bonnet" quilt. Mrs. Riehl served refreshments at the conclusion of the afternoon meeting.

The regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in the Tustin building, Mrs. Reulah Hamilton, publicity chairman, announced.

DINNER PLANNED
WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—A "mystery" dinner is to be served the public on the evening of November 14 at I. O. E. hall by women of the Aloha Rebekah lodge. Service will commence at 5:30 p. m. and continue to 7 p. m. A number of prizes will be awarded.

The regular lodge meeting will be held at 8 o'clock after which Rebekahs and their families will enjoy a social hour with games and a program. Mrs. Maude Michl is in charge of the dinner arrangements.

VERNER F. RUSH BREA COUNCIL KEEPS LEAD IN CARD CONTEST

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 2.—With only 1720 points separating the first and eighth pairs in the North and South position, a new record for close play was established in the ninth session of the public duplicate bridge tournament at the Laguna Bridge club this week. Although he earned only one point for last place North and South, Verner F. Rush, who played with Major F. N. Crosby, retained the lead by two points. Mrs. Nellie Tuttle scored her third high score in successive weeks, this time with Sherman A. Paddock as her partner. The scores just a dozen are as follows: Verner Rush, 54; Hettie Jones, 52; Martha De Anna, 47; J. B. Andrews, 46; Edith Jester, 45-1-2; Nell Tuttle, 44; Grace Andrews, 44; Elisabeth Pierce, 44; William Mathews, 43; Nellie Loan, 43; Arthur Dupuis, 42-1-2.

The scores of the ninth session follow: North and South, Hattie Jones and Stella Boyle, plus 3530; Anna Bartles and Hugo Lindberg, plus 3150; Nellie Loan and James Monarch, plus 2960; Charlotte Frost and Tarleton Brown, plus 2790; Martha De Anna and Lolita Perina, plus 2750; Evelyn Mathews and Grace Andrews, plus 2150; Gus and Betty Baldwin, plus 1970; Ma for Cosby and Verner Rush, plus 1810. East and West—Sherman Paddock and Nell Tuttle, minus 750; Elisabeth Pierce and Mrs. Chas. S. Freedman, minus 1710; William Mathews and Mary Gray, minus 2670; Ned Chapin and Hal Forrest, minus 2710; Manfred De Anna and Grace Helm, minus 2950; J. B. Andrews and Roy Helm, minus 3500; Judge Bartles and Ralph Frost Jr., minus 3910; Claude Bronner and Ethel Monarch, minus 4850.

On Friday evening, November 10, the first of a series of monthly match point tournaments will be played at the Laguna Bridge club.

BREA COUNCIL GETS REPORT ON HIGHWAY WORK

BREA, Nov. 2.—City Engineer R. W. Phelps last night related to the members of the city council the conversation he had the first of the week with George B. Cortelyou in regard to work on Brea streets as a project to employ idle Brea men.

Phelps said that Cortelyou declared that before any money would be available for city streets, that East Imperial highway, which is in the state's secondary road system, would have to be brought up to the standards for that system. At present, Cortelyou said, there is available to the city of Brea in the gasoline tax revenue, the sum of $200.

Street Superintendent Fred Boxall presented a petition from Miss Lucy Craig asking that the Pull Gospel assembly be allowed to hang a 30-foot banner across North Pomona avenue from the church building. The city granted the request.

Boxall reported that 20 more trees, the last to complete the shipment, had been received this week. These will make a total of 128 deciduous and 450 palms which have been set in parkways in the city within the past six weeks.

Further considering securing government aid in the matter of developing the water supply, the councilmen asked City Engineer Phelps to arrange a meeting between them and E. G. Saunders, of the Saunders water well drilling company, for the purpose of securing needed data.

Shower Is Held For Mrs. L. Crapo

BUENA PARK, Nov. 2.—Mrs. L. O. Crapo was honored with a shower at the home of Mrs. Eugene Schmitz, of Stanton road this week, with Mrs. J. A. Gough, Mrs. W. B. McIntyre and Mrs. Schmitz as hostesses. Many games appropriate to the occasion were played, with prizes awarded to Mrs. C. A. Hull and Miss Margaret Cole, first, and Misses Estelle Upshaw and Maude Brown, consolation. After the honoree had opened the gifts, refreshments were served by the three hostesses.

Present were Mrs. C. A. Carr, of Anaheim; Mrs. A. Reid and Miss Ruby Reid, of Pico; Mrs. H. Lewis, of Los Angeles; Mrs. C. F. Battelle and Miss Carol Battelle, of Fullerton; Miss Ruth Gunby, of Fullerton; Mrs. Barney Rubenstein and Mrs. Otto Olson, of Long Beach; Mrs. L. H. Brown, Mrs. Maude Brown, of Norwalk; Mrs. B. Also Mrs. Harlan Whitsett, Misses Mable Looney and Stella Upshaw, Mrs. Guy Beery of Yorba Linda, and the guest of honor, Mrs. L. O. Crapo, and Mrs. Schmitz and daughter, Mrs. Gough, of Buena Park.

Bridge Enjoyed In Midway City

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 2.—A bridge party was held this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Potts, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mossinger won the first prize and Mr. Potts and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Stoves, won the second, with consolation prize going to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore. Pumpkin pie and coffee and sandwiches were served at tables gay in Halloween decorations.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Esser, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mossinger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. Stoves, of Hollywood and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Potts.

Legion Post Of Laguna To Take Part In Parade

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 2.—Orville Chilton, commander of the American Legion post, has announced that the local legionnaires will participate in the Armistice day program at Orange Nov. 11. There will be a marching unit in the parade in the forenoon and the post will attend the football game in the afternoon. The Legion auxiliary also will send a marching unit.

CHAMBER WORKING FOR HIGH SCHOOL

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 2.—"A high school in Laguna Beach by September 1, 1934," is the slogan of a special committee named by the chamber of commerce and headed by John Jehle. Working with the board of education, the committee, according to Jehle, has been assured that the trustees are in accord with the program and are doing everything possible to make it a fact.

The regular meeting of the chamber on the evening of November 14 will be a dinner meeting at the chamber of commerce hall, to which all interested citizens have been invited. There Jehle's committee will launch a campaign for the high school. At an informal meeting of the chamber this week, Joseph R. Jahraus, Captain Don Wilkie, Earle M. Hathaway, Howard G. Heisler, Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, Lloyd J. Sells, A. B. Marshall, F. Pettes, A. C. Peterson, Leslie F. Kimmell and other leaders in the city pledged their support to the plan. Jahraus cautioned that while it is imperative to have a high school in Laguna Beach, that project must be carried out without adding too great a burden on the taxpayers. Dr. Miller declared that prospective home owners in Laguna Beach almost invariably inquired first about high school facilities.

Children Parade In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 2.—Fifty children took part in the Halloween parade which terminated in a grand march at the schoolhouse. Other children joined in the sports following. Doughnuts, cocoa and apples were served after the various games and contests provided two hours of amusement.

Six prizes for costumes were awarded, as follows: Prettiest costumes, Barbara Hogeland and Lynn Shoemaker; most appropriate, Mary Gooch and Charles Site; most grotesque, Jackie Robertson and Thierry Rogers. The judges were Judge F. S. Warner, Mrs. A. T. Smith and F. A. Nedemeyer. Twenty prizes were given to contest winners by the committee in charge of the games.

The parade and entertainment following were sponsored by the San Clemente Woman's club. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Julia Chalk, Mrs. F. T. Hogeland and Mrs. Hazel Abell. Mrs. A. E. Adair, Rebecca Nedemeyer, Floyd Lindsay, school principal, and John Pate assisted with entertainment, refreshments and decorations.

Program Enjoyed By Kiwanis Club

BUENA PARK, Nov. 2.—The regular meeting of the Kiwanis club was held Tuesday evening in the Woman's clubhouse, preceded by a dinner. President Ralph C. Cummins spoke on the coming district convention in Bakersfield this week. J. W. Schiller was program chairman for the evening. Little Justin Spohn gave a group of cowboy songs and yodeling numbers. Hawaiian steel guitars were played by Harry Palmer and Blanche Stevens.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Esser, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mossinger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. Stoves, of Hollywood and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Potts.

BALBOA ISLAND AID GROUP IN MASKED AFFAIR

COSTA MESA, Nov. 2.—A masked party sponsored by the Balboa Ladies' Aid, Island circle, with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brownston of 407 North Bay Front as hosts, was one of the most successful affairs of the season, with 50 persons present.

The home was decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, lanterns, witches and other seasonal effects. At the entrance the guests were met by A. J. Rutter, dressed as a ghost, who directed the maskers over a bed spring skillfully concealed by cornstalks. Mrs. J. M. Longfield was in charge of refreshments and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rutter of the games.

Women's first prize was won by Mrs. M. Henry, who impersonated Mae West; and J. E. Edwards, as an admiral, was awarded the men's first. Mrs. R. P. Norton's group won the apple contest and E. E. Bartholomew captured the prize in the guessing contest of masked guests. Besides the above mentioned, other outstanding impersonations were R. F. Norton and Mrs. George Oaks, who won first in the honeymoon game; Howard Tillotson, Spanish grandee; Mrs. H. Tillotson, Mrs. R. S. Norton, Mrs. J. F. Chillicoate and Mrs. Rutter, ghosts; B. E. Bartholomew, the devil; Mrs. Margaretta Stroupe Austin, pirate; Mrs. C. M. Logan, farm lad; Mrs. M. Lathrum, Spanish lady; J. M. Longfield, Uncle Tom; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad S. Shook, Negroes; Mrs. Lloyd Gage, Negro mummy; Mrs. E. M. Leedman and Mrs. E. S. Dixon, a bride and groom; Mrs. George Russell, farm woman; Mrs. Floyd Gage, Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. J. M. Longfield and Miss Nancy Logan, French maidens; J. A. Carroll, witch, and Mrs. B. E. Bartholomew, a Turkish lady.

Shower Held In Oceanview Home

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 2.—A shower was held recently in the home of Mrs. Claus Cousyn honoring her sister, Mrs. D. N. Williams, of Compton. Sewing and a social time occupied the afternoon, at the end of which refreshments of jello and cake were served.

Many dainty gifts were presented to Mrs. Williams, including a large bouquet of chrysanthemums. Guests included Mrs. Dave Cousyn, Mrs. Heim, Mrs. Russell Robbs, Mrs. O. Folkert, of Talbert; Mrs. C. E. Sine, Miss Alice Sine, Mrs. Truitt and Miss Mildred Truitt, of Costa Mesa; Mrs. Lupe Guilton, of Balboa; Mrs. Earl Talley, Mrs. Claude Marshaw, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. Wellington De La Vergne, Mrs. D. N. Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Claus Cousyn.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mince water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only more the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, making when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for CARTER'S Little Liver Pills. Look for the name "CARTER'S Little Liver Pills" on the red label. Resistant a substitute. Read drug stores.

NAME SCHILLER TO FULLERTON SCHOOL BOARD

Appointment of John Schiller, Buena Park, as a member of the Fullerton union high school board of trustees, was announced yesterday by County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson. Schiller will fill the unexpired term of Arthur Staley of Placentia, which expires next May.

Schiller's appointment is said to have the almost unanimous approval of Buena Park residents as it marks the first time that community has been represented on the board. His appointment followed presentation of a petition signed by 56 persons requesting Adkinson to name Schiller.

Appointment of a substitute for Staley was made necessary through withdrawal of the Placentia elementary school district

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By J. GORDON ALLARD
Certified Culbertson Teacher

Last week I began a discussion on the subject of finesse. In this article I will give you Milton C. Work's table of finesse. Holding the A, Q with 11 cards in the two hands, play the A.

Holding the A, Q with 10 cards or less in the two hands, play the Q.

Holding the A, K, J with 9 cards or more in the two hands, play the K.

Holding the A, K, J with 8 cards or less in the two hands, play the J.

Holding the A, Q, 10 with 9 cards or more in the two hands, play the Q.

Holding the A, Q, 10 with 8 cards or less in the two hands, play the 10.

The following hand will demonstrate how the above table works.

North		South
S. A, Q, 10, 7, 2	H. 6, 5, 4, 2	D. A, Q, 2	C. 4
East		West
S. 9, 8, 3	S. K, J, 4	H. K, 8	H. J, 9
D. J, 10, 9, 4	D. K, 7, 6, 5	C. Q, 9, 8, 7	C. 10, 5, 3, 2

The bidding: (Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

Both sides vulnerable. South dealer.

South	West	North	East
1H	Pass	2N.T.(1)	Pass
4H(2)	Pass	4S(2)	Pass
Pass(4)

(1) This response is to be preferred by far over a spade bid. Two no-trump after an opening suit one bid is a semi-forcing bid showing 5½ honor tricks. I say emphatically that it does not deny normal support and does not deny a biddable suit.

(2) Showing a rebiddable suit. This is an absolute minimum rebiddable suit and is considered to contain four tricks because of the chance for a double finesse.

(3) Showing a rebiddable suit. (4) South has shown the full value of his hand, and is perfectly justified in passing at this point. Any further bidding on the part of either player would be decidedly overbidding.

By properly finessing all the suits, a grand slam can be made. East's opening lead is the J of diamonds, which enables declarer to make two tricks in that suit.

In the heart suit, declarer should finesse the Q, for there are nine hearts in the two hands. All five hearts are made.

In the spade suit, declarer must finesse the ten, for there are only seven spades in the combined hands. All five hands are made.

If declarer wants to finesse clubs he should play the J, for the two hands hold less than eight clubs.

Anyone desiring further information upon the subject of finesse or any phase of the Culbertson System may obtain it from Mr. Allard by writing him at Ell P. Clark hall, Claremont, and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Children Attend Costume Affair

BREA, Nov. 2.—Hallowe'en costumes, ghosts and witches marked the party which Little Miss Mary Mildred Davis, daughter of Walker Davis, gave for a group of her school friends Tuesday evening at her home on West Imperial highway. Mary Mildred was assisted in hostess duties by her sister, Betty Davis, and her grandmother, Mrs. Frances Davis. The home had been wired so that light shocks were felt whenever doors were opened or metal articles touched.

Paul Warfield received a first prize for the best costume. Other guests were Marie Noy, Marjorie Murray, Lela May Chansler, Alice Arviso, Lyndall Wiede, Benny Hooten, Bobbie Ball, Roswald Barton, Dick Crabill and Frances Bickel, all of Brea, and Mrs. Anna Evans and little daughter, Barbara Anne, of Whittier.

A total of 5580 motor cars was stolen in the metropolitan area of London in 1932.

Make dessert a gleaming delight!

Many a plain family dinner (even good old ham-and-eggs) has found itself turning into a party, towards its close, because somebody thought of gleeful eye-fuls of Loganberry Jell-well on the prettiest platters the house affords!

Give the family's color-sense plenty of exercise! For state occasions, birthdays and such...candles on the table! And Mother, in a party mood, watching the spoonful-by-spoonful disappearance of the "little treats" she planned. Perhaps she fixed Jell-well before we all went to the movie...and it set while Mickey Mouse was rescuing Minnie!

Lost 30 Pounds of Fat in 3 Months

Dizzy Spells Gone

"Today I started my 4th jar of Kruschen. First I must tell you I lost 30 lbs. in 3 months. I still weigh 154. Do I feel good—now I can say I feel better than I've felt in 10 years. Everything was wrong with me from headaches to backaches, my arms and hands would fall asleep at any time. They don't any more. I used to have dizzy spells. Don't any more. Heartburn was so bad I couldn't eat or sleep. Don't have it any more." Mrs. Arthur Willette, Ferndale, Mich., Aug. 27, 1935.

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, HARMLESS way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, or any drugstore—the cost for a jar that lasts 4 weeks is not more than 85 cents and if after the first jar you are not fully satisfied with results—money back.

When you take your little daily dose of Kruschen you'll be joyfully free from constipation—you'll gain that glorious Kruschen feeling—no more headaches, acidity or shortness of breath—no more nervousness or sleepless nights.

COUNTY HEALTH FACTS GIVEN AT LIONS MEET

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Dr. K. H. Sutherland, head of the health department of Orange county, gave a comprehensive survey of health conditions in Orange county and of the work of the health departments in general, at the Lions club meeting Wednesday. The success of the community is measured by the well being and good health of its citizens, said the speaker, as he outlined methods of maintaining public health by the even distribution of safe guards against communicable disease.

A complete program against communicable disease is necessary, the speaker pointed out, for if safeguards are lowered in one community contagious diseases spread to other nearby communities. Orange county, Dr. Sutherland stated, was one of the first to organize a unit in a health program. The health department was so organized in 1923, he said, and two physicians are now employed in safeguarding the health of the people residing here. Work being done includes sanitary inspections of eating places, of meat, milk and food of all kinds, water supply, laboratory work. General health information for the benefit of mothers and children is given by the department.

The decrease in communicable disease since the health program was established was shown by the speaker. Independent work is done in a number of the schools along health lines the speaker said, where school nurses are employed.

Dr. Sutherland stated that one of the nurses took off the staffs an economy measure, had been replaced and Dr. Mabel Geddes, who has lived in Mexico for many years had been appointed by board of supervisors to work as health supervisor of county schools and to work among the Mexican population.

Decrease in the death rate since the establishment of the county health department, decrease in the spread of disease and the freedom from rabies in Orange county at the present time, were favorable facts noted by the speaker.

Gordon K. Richmond was the chairman of the program committee. George O. Sheldon, of Oakland, made a short talk asking for the endorsement of the club of a measure to be presented to the legislature which will ask that the state take over the toll bridges in the northern part of the state, four of which now exist and which are controlled by private franchises. The matter will be taken up later.

Merchants Plan To Close 2 Hours On Armistice Day

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Merchants of this city will close their stores Armistice day from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., conforming to hours of closing selected by merchants at other cities of the county, following a meeting of the merchants' association yesterday afternoon at the American Legion clubhouse. C. H. Robinson presided.

Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, national director of the W. C. T. U., spent Monday and Tuesday in Los Angeles, where she conducted a young people's conference in conjunction with Mrs. Helen Burns, national director of young people's work.

P. T. A. TO PRESENT HEALTH PROGRAM AT SCHOOL NOV. 8

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Discussion of plans for a P. T. A. health program to be presented November 8 at intermediate school took place yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the P. T. A. council held with Mrs. J. Edward Bertmann, 454 North Olive street.

Mrs. Glenn Reck announced that the meeting, to be held at 2:30 o'clock, will be under the auspices of the City Council association, with all Parent-Teacher groups of the city participating. George Peterkin is to conduct a program on "First Aid" and the Mothers' chorus will sing. The Intermediate P. T. A. will conduct a food sale.

Miss Rachel Williams, music director, announced that membership is open in the Mothers' chorus, which meets every Tuesday at 9 a. m. in Intermediate school. George Sherwood reported on the progress of the school for sick children at Orange County hospital, where there is an attendance of 38. He stated that all manner

MODERN BOOKS REVIEWED FOR CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. B. D. Stanley reviewed several modern books from which she stated, the reader may derive spiritual aid, at the mid-week meeting held at the Presbyterian church last night. In a short summary of the volumes, Mrs. Stanley showed the influence books play upon the thought and actions of the individual.

Books reviewed were "What Men Live By," Richard Cabot; "What We Live By," Abba Dimmet; "Methods of Private Religious Living," Henry N. Weisman; "Managing Oneself," James Gordon Gilkey; "Youth and the Church Living," Cynthia P. Mas; "Magnificent Obsession," Lloyd Douglas and "Love: The Law of Life," Kagawa.

An open discussion was held during which "Christ of the Open Road," by Stanley Jones, and "Bitter Sweet," were discussed. Mrs. R. B. McAulay told of the importance of "Who's Who in America," "Songs, 'Nearer, Still Nearer'" and "Book Divine," were sung by Mrs. Carl Plister.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Charles Hollister will speak at prayer meeting next week, telling of her recent trip to China, where she visited her son, Ezra, who is a representative of the church as a teacher in a government school.

Dinner Planned By Scepter Group

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Giving an address on "The Art of Public Speaking," Mrs. John Clarkson, of Santa Ana, was speaker at a meeting of Scepter Social circle held Tuesday afternoon in Masonic hall. She was introduced by Mrs. F. E. Harrison.

During the business meeting, in charge of the president, Mrs. Gertrude Case, plans were made for the next meeting to be held on the evening of November 21. This will be a covered dish dinner, with husbands to attend as guests.

This week's meeting was preceded by a covered dish luncheon. F. H. Mellor and Lewis Thompson were special guests at the luncheon. VIRGINIA CLAYPOOL ENTERTAINS CLASS

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Miss Virginia Claypool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Claypool of North Glassell street, was hostess Tuesday night at a Halloween party held in the basement of her home.

Guests of the evening included members of the girls' seventh grade Sunday school class of the Methodist church of which Mrs. Roy M. Buckles is teacher.

The girls arrived masked and were escorted into the basement, which was decorated with pumpkins, corn stalks and jack-o'-lanterns. Many Halloween games were played. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Claypool to the following: Lura Dotson, Marie Cast, Louise Shadowen, Betty Trewett, Virginia Wilber, Laura Durnbaugh, Mary Cagle, Olive Marie Johnson, Mrs. Roy M. Buckles and Virginia Claypool.

PARTY ENJOYED

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Richard and Tommy King, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King, North Cambridge street, were hosts at a luncheon this week. A Halloween motif was stressed in the decorations and a jack-o'-lantern centered the table. Black cat cookies and black and orange candies were served with the dessert course, and favors were tiny pumpkins. Guests of honor were Betty Jean Clark and Betty Hollman.

Reserves Start Work On Blocks

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Members of the eighth grade Girl Reserves started work yesterday on drawings for linoleum blocks which they are to use for stenciling. A few of the girls are making pewter bracelets as a part of the program outlined in the handicraft department.

The ping pong tournament, which has created enthusiasm among members, is well under way, it was announced by the Girl Reserve advisor, Miss Lavina Compton.

Tentative plans have been made for a progressive dinner party to be held sometime near the end of November.

BROKEN HOMES GET BLAME FOR CRIME OF TODAY

LA HABRA, Nov. 2.—That 93 per cent of the criminals of today are from homes where parents are separated from each other for one reason or another, was brought out by Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana in an address before the La Habra P. T. A. Wednesday evening.

In some cases, he said, the people at home are too busy finding fault with one another to take time to train their children. The old excuse that there are no duties and chores for the modern youth to keep him out of mischief is a poor one, for if there is no work for him, parents should play with him, Judge Morrison said.

The example parents set before their children, actually governs the life of the child greatly and if we would have the confidence of our children we must support their interests, he said.

Fathers' night was observed with Judge A. C. Earley as chairman. A program was given by the pupils of the fifth and sixth grades of the Lincoln school under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Proud and Miss Helen Hibbs. N. M. Launer read a report on the executive board meeting.

The "Four Fathers" quartet sang two numbers. Those in the quartet were George Armstrong, Homer Holzgrafe, Claude Ridgeway and Edgar Luehm, with S. L. Treff as accompanist.

Report of the membership committee showed 126 members already enrolled, with the goal set at 250. Nineteen fathers are members of the P. T. A.

The humane committee reported that the "Kindness to Animals" pet show would be held at the Washington school Friday at 2 p. m. Children will bring their pets to be put on exhibit and ribbons will be awarded to prize winners.

The Christmas bazaar and carnival to be sponsored by the P. T. A. will take place December 8 and 9.

MAKE CHANGES IN PLANS FOR SCHOOL

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—Plans for the rebuilding of Westminster school house, submitted last summer by Perrine and Mackey have been returned from Sacramento, where they have been on file awaiting the sanction of state officials. A few tentative changes in the plans are being made by the architects, who will take them to Sacramento the last of the week for approval. The changes required do not materially change the architecture of the building or the proposed cost.

School trustees, who have been considering the best method of procedure, have applied for an R. F. C. loan and this week sent additional information to R. F. C. headquarters.

Under this loan only 70 per cent of the $10,000 asked would have to be repaid. After government acceptance of the bonds, the money could either be turned over to the state for construction under the Green act or the local district could advertise and go about building in the ordinary manner.

FLAGS PRESENTED AT W. R. C. SESSION

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Eva L. Christman, of Modesto, department president, attended a recent meeting of the Garden Grove W. R. C. in Legion hall and was presented a gift from the local organization. The corps was presented a flag from the Whittier corps, a flag and standard from the Orange corps and two flag standards from the La Habra corp.

Plans were discussed for a birthday party to be given on November 10 in honor of Mrs. McCollough on her 93rd birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Other guests present were Mamie M. Deans, president of Station corps No. 16 of Los Angeles; Etta Countess, department patriotic instructor of Anaheim; Kate Reed Humphreys, past national secretary; Cora L. Abbott, past department president; Ethel Carey, president of La Habra corps; Gladys McDonald, department organizing officer of Orange; Minnie Williams, past president of La Habra; Florence Merriam, president of Orange.

La Habra Girls Are Entertained

LA HABRA, Nov. 2.—Florence Kootz entertained members of the sixth grade of the Girl Reserve at her home on Citrus avenue this week. Mrs. Edgar Lana and Mrs. N. M. Jones were in charge of the affair and transported the girls to the party on a truck decorated with ghosts and cornstalks. Games occupied the guests during the evening and refreshments were served by Mrs. Rosetta Kootz, assisting her daughter, Florence.

Present were Betty Lou Renkin, Hazel Huffman, Wilhelmine Diekmann, Elsie Granger, Fern Delano, Carol Ogilvie, Marjorie Brown, Mildred Wham, Glee Guthrie and Claudia Jones.

ORANGE PRICES AND GOLD

During the past week of government purchases of gold Moody's index of fifteen staple commodities advanced from 120.9 to 125.2, a gain of 4.3. At the same time the average price of oranges delivered in the East declined from $3.26 to $3.16 per box. (Prices taken from the Associated Press Weekly Citrus Market Review.)

Comparing present prices with those of one year ago Moody shows the following increases in products of American agriculture:

Product	Year Ago	Now	Gain
Hides, pound$.06$.0925$.0325
Wheat, bushel4475467520
Corn, bushel23524510
Hogs, hundredweight3.354.451.10
Cotton, pound06209750355
Wool, pound6151.09548

Orange prices, however, now $3.15 a box were $3.55 for the same week of 1932 and $4.09 for the same week of 1931. In other words the price of oranges per box is now 39 cents lower than one year ago and 93 cents lower than two years ago.

Furthermore in making these comparisons we must remember that the prices for 1932 and 1931 represent gold dollars while the present price is in terms of the present dollar which according to Washington figures were worth in gold, October 28, 1933, 64.9 cents. Multiplying the latter figure by 3.16 makes the present price of oranges in gold dollars $2.05 as against $3.55 a year ago and $4.09 two years ago, or a decline of $1.50 below 1932 and $2.04 below 1931.

These comparisons are more significant when we consider that the so called "prorate" or stabilization agreement has been in effect all through the season. Last year the prorate was advocated as the panacea for all the ills of the orange grower. The writer has no intention of discrediting the agreement or the men who have given so much in time and effort to operate it but it is now apparent that it has failed to solve the problem of the orange grower, viz. how to obtain a fair price for his oranges.

One of the chief objections to a prorate plan is that it attempts to control volume only. While low grades and small sizes have been prorated and sold all this season we now have the spectacle of thousands of boxes of beautiful fruit still unpicked, fruit which would have brought good prices earlier in the season but which is now over ripe and too soft to ship. The Mutual Orange Growers pointed out this objection last year and advocated an "elimination plan" whereby all fruit would be picked and a certain definite percentage, the same for each grower, culled out. Thus all fruit sold would be the best and all eliminated would be in grades and sizes that bring smallest prices.

Another point urged was that eliminated fruit should not be used in juice plants or byproducts which compete with fresh fruit. This year we have seen the juice plants supplied with fruit which will not the grower little if anything above handling costs but which will supply the consumer with juice which otherwise he would squeeze from fresh oranges purchased on the market.

The year of experience under the prorate has proved at least that other factors must be considered. Aside from the question of lower freight and icing rates and cheaper selling costs are the matters of better distribution and improved methods of selling. The marketing organization deducts a charge for selling the fruit. If sold on the auction an additional auction charge has to be paid. Many growers feel that they are paying to have their fruit sold, and at a price which will return a fair profit, instead of dumped on the auction where the buyer takes it at his own price. They also recognize that low auction prices keep down prices of private sales. They also feel that there should be better distribution, that heavy concentrations of fruit in a few auction centers inevitably results in lower sales prices.

As the season closes the usual subtle and propaganda are heard. It is stated that prices are lower now because of heavier shipments. In reality carlot shipments to Oct. 28, 1933, were 49,334 as against 54,457 last year. Reports have been widely circulated and printed that the two leading co-operatives are to consolidate. As a director of one of these organizations the writer can assure its members that no such action is contemplated by it. Claims are made also that when the National Citrus Marketing Agreement becomes operative "all growers will be on the same basis regardless of marketing affiliations." Its provisions will apply to all interstate shippers but as in the past the more efficient will produce better results. There will continue to be wide variation in expertness of management, amount of indebtedness and interest charges, number of excessive salaries paid and other varying factors which contribute to the effectiveness of any business. Never was it more essential for the grower to belong to a non profit association that is well organized, efficient, economical, expertly managed, unincumbered with burdensome debts, an organization that treats all growers fairly and equally, accounts for all fruit received and does not pad or camouflage returns.

Under any system of marketing and whatever may be the value of the dollar the more efficient organizations will continue to show higher returns for each field box picked, the one infallible guide for the grower in computing his results.

Friday, November 10: WIBW—580 kcs., 1000 watts, Topeka, Kan.—until 1 a. m.

Station WIND, 560 kcs., 1000 watts, Gary, Indiana, is on the air every morning until 1:00 a. m. P. S. T., with their "Old Milk Man's Matinee" program, a request program.

To the listeners who have never tuned in China and would like to do so: Try XGOA, 660 kcs., 75,000 watts, Nanking, China, any time 2:00 to 3:00 a. m. until daylight. P. S. T. they broadcast English programs occasionally. (Note: XGOA operates a little off the 660 kcs. channel, very close to 655 kcs.)

Also KZRM, Manila, P. I., 50,000 watts, is coming through good now on 615.5 kcs. Try for during the same hours as given for XGOA, 1 e., in the mornings until daylight, P. S. T.

KREG NOTES

Harold Moomaw, teacher of mechanical drawing and shop in the Adult Education Dept., Santa Ana City Schools, will speak on the class work being done and the opportunities it offers to tradesmen.

If Jerry Hall, "The Musical Merchant," continues to receive as many requests as he has been receiving, he will have to have more time on the air or simply not grant them all, it was said by KREG officials. Hall's Thursday night programs of favorite ballads which he announces and sings are becoming increasingly popular. He also makes his own commercial announcements in a manner that is pleasing and easy to listen to.

The music of Ben Selvin and His Orchestra and of Joe Green's Novelty Orchestra will be heard during tonight's presentation of "Tiempos," typewriter at 6:15. KREG. They will play: "Dinner at Eight," "Emperor Jones," "Life's So Complete" and "Paradise Lane," four of the latest hits of the day.

A concert program on KREG at 8 o'clock tonight will feature the following classics among other classical numbers as played by some of the foremost musical organizations and musicians. The "Brunhilde" from Goetterdaemmerung, Wagner, Dr. Max von Schilling's Symphony Orchestra, "Alaric's Suite," Massenet, and "L'Arlésienne Suite," Bizet, Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Pierre Chagnon.

Tomorrow morning during the book review program at 10:30 Mary Burke King will discuss "Crowded Hours," reminiscence of Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

RADIO FEATURES

Brilliant and colorful orchestral music, selected from the works of master tone painters, will be played for radio listeners by the 60-piece Standard Symphony under Alfred Hertz's direction during the broadcast over an NBC network including KFI between 8:15 and 9:15 tonight. Gay Italian scenes are suggested in the popular "Roman Carnival Overture."

by Berlin, the initial number. Oriental influence is noted in Rimsky-Korsakoff's lovely "Song of India," which follows Sinsargha's "Piedmontese Dance No. 1." Wagner numbers conclude the program.

The thirteenth year of radio will be speeded on its way, and the fourteenth anniversary of the beginning of broadcasting as it is known today will be celebrated in a special broadcast from radio's pioneer program, KDKA in Pittsburgh, tonight. Part of the jubilee program, in which 100 popular artists and prominent speakers will take part, will be heard at 9 o'clock over KPO.

The race for top musical honors in America is revealed in the program Big Ten, the unique feature to be heard over KPO from 9:30 to 10 tonight. Given over to the most popular number in America during the week just passed, the broadcast reveals what new songs have been heard the most frequently on coast to coast programs.

FRIDAY

The second in the series of Friday concerts by the Philadelphia orchestra, with Leopold Stokowski conducting, will bring to the audience of the Columbia network including KJH starting at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow, two compositions by American women. They are "Adagio," by Frances McCollin, a native of Philadelphia, and "Mountains," by Ione Pickhardt. The remaining selections of the program will be Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 in E minor, "From the New World," and excerpts from Wagner's music drama, "Die Walkure."

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1933

TRANSITION PERIOD IN RECONSTRUCTION DIFFICULT

The opposition to the NRA is coming now from many sources. The farmers, in the very beginning, were relieved from operating under the provisions of this law. Under the new ruling, communities of 2500 population and less are also relieved from operating under the law, with the exception of the chain stores.

This was done so that the farmer would not be handicapped by the provisions of the code in the employment of his labor. There have been various measures enacted for the relief of the farmer, both nationally and in this state. The processing tax, applied originally to seven of the outstanding staples, together with the farm loan act, were expected to aid the farmer very materially. The help has not been any too evident, owing to several serious handicaps. One of these was that under the NRA code prices were raised on nearly everything that the farmer had to buy and what he was selling did not make any corresponding advance. This, as a matter of fact, is true, not only of the farmer, but has been true of the wage earner in the city as well. Many of the manufacturing companies, knowing beforehand the character of what the NRA would be, increased their inventories with labor at its cheapest point.

While we have been speaking in a general way of both labor and the farmer, yet according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a recent release to the press, it declares:

The October 15 index of farm prices was 14 points higher than on the same date a year ago. The index of prices farmers pay for commodities was 11 points higher on October 15 than on the same date a year ago. The ratio of prices received to prices paid, or the exchange value of farm products in terms of commodities farmers buy was 69 on October 15 this year against 53 on October last year, compared to 49, the low point, in February 1933.

If the figures have been the same for the whole period of the last three months, as they appeared to be on this particular date of October 15, the farmer would be in fairly good shape. But unfortunately we do not believe that the statistics indicate this.

More than this, the price of farm products is not always a sure indication of the condition of the farmer. For example, a farmer may have sold his wheat or his corn or his cotton, for delivery at the time of harvest, a long time ago, to get money on it, and the increase in price means absolutely nothing to him. This is the unfortunate situation. The farmer should take this, however, into consideration: that the increased price is there, namely, the work was done by the Federal government on his behalf.

To be sure, owing to his financial needs he had to sell out his future advantages for cash down weeks ago. But he should not charge the government with that situation, except this, that possibly a long time ago the government should have taken into consideration the terrible condition in which the farmer was being driven, and should have made it possible for him to avoid this distress that has driven him to such lengths to get immediate cash.

If it were only possible to go step by step—"first things first" in the program which the President has laid down, the hardships might have been avoided. But as we meet the incidental hardship, it causes many of us to oppose the very program which might possibly pull us out in the end, if we could only last until the end. The farmer, who is the basic man in the whole order, should, and in the end must, be rehabilitated if we are to have a permanent return.

The President has asked in any cases where the farmer is being foreclosed upon, that he shall make a direct and immediate appeal. We wonder if this is being tested out, and if there are any cases where the government is failing to respond. Let us take him at his word. Let us perform our part and see what happens.

Lions, in an African game preserve, are said to be so tame they come out for their dinner. Thank you, we'll stay away.

A CHANTICLEER TRICK

We all remember Chanticleer. He made the sun rise by his crowing, because didn't the sun rise when he crowed?

"In all the prosperous times prices were high and were rising. Therefore, the thing that made prosperous times was high prices and rising prices. So, if we increase the price of commodities and get them to rise, prosperous times will be here. The rise in prices is just because times are good." This is making the "sun rise" by the "crowing of the cock."

The truth is that good prices and rising prices are made by demand for the goods. The demand for the goods is due to the people having work and having money in their pockets to pay for the goods. In other words, good times produce high prices. High prices do not force good times.

Blossoms are the result of growing flowers, but producing blossoms artificially will not create the growing plant. The blossom and the fruit come as the result of growth. The plant does not come as the result of the blossom and the fruit.

The purchasing power in the great masses of the people must come first before prices rise. If they have the money, the result of demand will force prices up. We can imagine some people reading this and saying: "Nobody denies these truths." Possibly not, but we have been acting upon the assumption that the "pegging" of prices upward, would force prosperity beneath, in spite of whether we recognize these truths or not. It can't be done that way.

REAL ESTATE TAX REDUCED

All of the taxpayers have done more or less complaining about taxes, and we feel that we have had reason to. It is very necessary for us to keep our mind on the subject, and our eyes glued to the conditions as they develop in the way of public expenses.

But certainly the owners of real property had some joy in the realization of the tax reductions upon real estate for this coming year. The total reduction in the county tax amounts to one-third.

We have not been favorable to the sales tax, particularly the way it was drawn up, and the character of things upon which the tax is assessed. But certainly people living in the rural sections are greatly helped in their real estate tax, and the people in the city as well.

In order to get permanent value out of the tax proposition, it will be necessary to see to it that the total expenditures are not raised, since a portion of the expense is taken from the local taxation and put on the state. The state raises it now through the sales tax and the danger is that each year now the other tax will be increased, and maybe the sales tax also, so that the other sources of revenue, instead of being of permanent help, may simply add to the expenses of public affairs over what the people are now paying.

But owners of real estate, who have suffered to the highest degree on the general increase of taxation and the lowering of values, are rejoicing, and with very just cause.

LEADERSHIP A NECESSITY

Will Rogers today takes a rap at leaders, specifically farm leaders. Hitler in his book, "My Struggle," reveals finesse of leadership not very flattering to those lead, and a Tammany leader in New York defends the "boss" system on the ground that it is human nature to be led. Hitler's advice to leaders is to appeal to men they wish to influence when they are weary and therefore resistance is weak.

If the attacked "led" are inclined to an inferiority complex under this barrage let us retain our equilibrium with the thought that the only legitimate ground for criticism is the quality of the leadership followed. We haven't yet chosen a Hitler, and Tammany is having to fight to retain its leadership.

It is inevitable that individuals have leaders, or peers, in this complicated civilization. Experts in technical, economic, and civic affairs are necessary to our civilization. Affairs are so complicated that most of us must content ourselves with sufficient general knowledge of all fields to select our leaders wisely. Even that is no easy achievement. For one thing there must be some resistance to the leaders lest the individual surrender too many prerogatives to the leader. We have a sad recent history of doing just that in this country.

There is no reason for being ashamed of having leaders unless we must be ashamed of the leaders we have.

The Order of the Boutonniere

This would seem an age of labels and group identity, for in times of stress mankind has always shown a disposition toward herding. Those who aspire for this protection of numbers sometimes look for a fraternity among shirts, sacrificing in the process their selective impulses in the matter of colors with their individuality of thought.

But there lingers, without headlines or trumpets and perhaps dwindling in numbers, membership of yet another fraternity: the wearers of the boutonniere! One meets a member now and again these golden autumn mornings, bravely debonair on his way to town, conscious of the jaunty flower in his buttonhole. By lunch time he is sluttish and his freshness with a surreptitious dash of water so that in answer to some comment on its beauty he may reply, "Yes, the last of the Lyons for this season I'm afraid, but that corner is very sheltered, yes, very protected."

No one of the outer world knows how tremendously it matters to his day, this small token. He hardly knows it himself. His badge may be a rose or a carnation or an orchid to winter jasmine or snowdrops by January.

It stands for what then, this decoration—the garden? He could hardly explain if he would; perhaps for the sunshine on the leaves when he gathers his flower, perhaps for the crisp earth beneath his feet when he stepped on the border, or for the thrush that watched him while he placed the gay petals in his coat walking down the path. Or maybe for the little twirl mist that would round the trees in the hollow of the hill, or hundreds of other things that he rarely talks about but carries with him as memories stored away during the day.

And so the little gentleman of the rosegay vanishes away again at evening mysteriously to his home, goodness knows where; the flower will have grown limp. Maybe he will treasure it in water, but his fraternity will be the same even if the ornament is relegated to the wastebasket, for in itself it is more elusive than a shirt and so less easily destroyed.

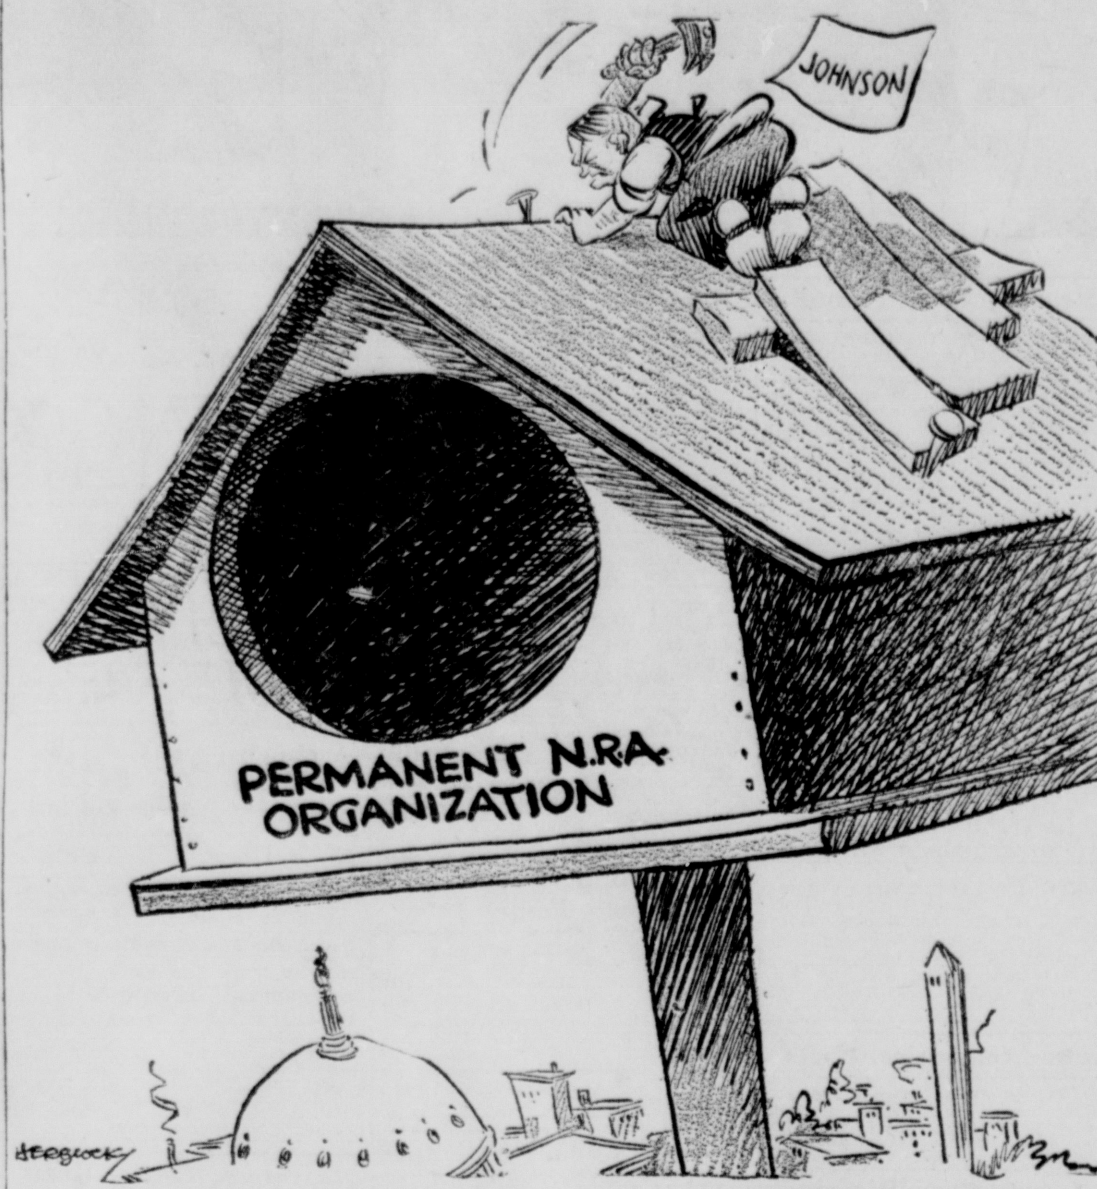

Mankind in his fraternity of shirts seems always to be hurrying after something for which he feverishly strives and fights and finds never quite within his grasp. He is part of the new and great melting-pot of modernity. The fraternity of the boutonniere stands for things at once as enduring as they are transient with a diversity allowed by the variety of the flowers themselves.

Happened in France

Calais, over in France, is so anxious to sell lace and tulle to America that the whole council and mayor have resigned. The resignations come as a protest against the French tariff and quota policies. Bans on importation of cotton and other raw materials from America and newly-increased French duties on American products are going to hurt business. Sixty per cent of the export of the channel port goes to this country.

A tariff argument somewhat the reverse of one heard here bothers Calais. We ship in most raw materials duty free and make them into goods. France is seeking a higher customs revenue on raw materials and is penalizing industry. So a mayor and council resign and we are left to imagine similar officials in an American city doing the same to draw national attention to a municipal problem.

Making the Blue Eagle Feel Right At Home

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT

With the help of galling labor
You may keep up with your neighbor,
Aided by unceasing effort
You may make the most of life;
Practically everybody
Has to spend long years in study.
There is no way of evading
Bitter toil and weary strife.

Everyone who shrewd and wise is
Hopes to win life's golden prizes:
No one wants to be unhappy,
No one cares to fall or fail;
No one who is in his senses
Lives outside of his expenses.
And, upon a meager income,
Victuals free on cakes and ale.

If you're just a feeble quitter,
You will find existence bitter,
Golden prospects will elude you,
Luck will never look your way.
Fight the battle of existence
With a calm and brave insistence.
Be unworried and untroubled
As you enter in the fray.

If you've done as I've suggested,
If your courage has been tested,
If you enter every battle
With enough of nerve and pluck,
Never moaning, never sighing,
Never whimpering or crying,
You may win, but I must warn you
That you'll need a lot of luck.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

MODIFYING CAPITALISM

Capitalism, as it has functioned in America, must be modified or made to stand aside for some other economic procedure. Just because I am so profoundly convinced that the American tradition of private capitalism and political liberty affords a sounder basis for the national future than any alternative system now before the world I am an eager follower of every possible gleam of light on practical ways and means of ridding capitalism of its sins and releasing its real ministry to mankind.

Marquis W. Childs, in the November issue of Harpers Magazine, points a highly provocative picture of what Sweden has done to achieve the practical results of a planned economy without becoming a slave to any theoretical system whether of Socialism, Communism or Fascism.

"The Scandinavian countries," says Mr. Childs, "stand midway between the uncontrolled capitalism of America before the crash and the arbitrary Marxian communism before the Stalin modifications of a year ago. They have arrived at this middle course by modifying and altering the economic forms of capitalism, by adopting practices from other economic systems, and by evolving new forms of their own. They have achieved that control of capitalism which is sought in the United States by the laws passed at the insistence of President Roosevelt during the last session of Congress."

If this is true, it becomes important alike for those who defend and for those who dislike the Roosevelt program to cast a critical eye towards the developments of the last twenty to thirty years in the Scandinavian countries, notably in Sweden.

Mr. Childs discusses with adequate concreteness of detail four major means employed by Sweden in effecting a modified capitalism that has resulted in a singularly high and relatively stable standard of living for the Swedish masses. They are:

(1) The aggressive cooperation of consumers.

(2) The active and intelligent participation of the state in industrial fields of peculiar importance to the masses, such as power, not following government operation for the sake of any theory of government ownership and control, but a venture lying alongside private ownership and operation that acts as pace setter and check to private capitalism.

(3) A widely and wisely organized labor movement.

(4) A long process of social education.

I am myself convinced that nothing but utility and debauch lie ahead for us if we turn either to the utterly uncontrolled capitalism of the past or to an attempt to run the whole business of the country by bureaucrats from Washington. Sweden may have chosen the smarter path. Let us see what we might gain from a nation-wide expansion of the cooperative principle in fields that lend themselves to such organization. Let us see what the government can do in selected fields as a pace setter and check for private capitalism. Let us hasten rather than hinder the complete organization of both employers and employees and play for a leadership on each side of the table that will think nationally. And let us set seriously about the business of educating the nation in the new economics that this age of plenty has long foreshadowed.

There is life in the old dog of capitalism yet. Let's teach him new tricks instead of chopping off his head.

LETTERS HOME

"Joe Williams, that's the third time I've seen you whisper this morning. I'm going to write a note to your father tonight." And so on all day long. A note home for the whisperer. One for the child who was late. One for the boy who missed three spelling words. Then the one whose hands were not clean. He must have a note. The correspondence piles up. And that slow one. He has to have a note to his mother so she will drill him on his words and tables. Dear Mother. Your son Robert is so slow in school that he cannot finish a lesson in time to go on with the next. Will you please give this matter your immediate attention for he will be left back if this continues."

Just what is a troubled parent to do with such a note? He cannot make the slow child swift. He cannot go to the classroom and see that his child does not whisper, nor drop papers on the floor, nor push the boy ahead of him. He cannot make his child learn his spelling lesson every day. The teacher has the child for five hours a day for five days a week and for several, perhaps ten, months in the year. Why shift the responsibility to the home?

The monthly report card ought to be enough for any home cooperation that is needed. Children do not make immediate improvement in any one direction. All growth, and we must consider improvement growth, takes time. Some phases take more time than others. Some children do everything they do in less time than others, some require much longer. All of them must have time for growth and when a note goes home once or twice a week nothing is accomplished. Usually harm is done.

When a note goes home the family is distressed. Everybody takes a hand in the game of amending the offender. Often he is punished unwisely. I have known an anxious mother to tell a backward and sickly child that he could not go out any afternoon for the rest of the school term because he had such poor reports of his school lessons. His lessons were poor but his health was poorer and the longer he stayed in the house under stern instruction to study and learn, the poorer his work and the worse his health.

There are emergencies when notes must be sent home. But emergencies speak for themselves. Nobody questions that note. But the nagging note that says, "Please come to school about your child." "Please see that Mary Jane knows her lessons before she comes to school." "I wish you would please see that your child washes his hands before he comes into the classroom." "Please speak to Arthur about his whispering." does no good. It costs the teacher the respect of the pupil and his parents.

There is a note, however, that is always welcome. It lifts the spirit of the child who carries it home, it inspires the parents with courage and increases their faith in the teacher. That note says, "I am pleased to be able to say that your son Peter has improved greatly this past month in lessons and behavior. We believe that he will reach the top group before term end." Try that kind instead of the other, and if you can't truthfully use it wait until the end of the month. Meantime, struggle to help the child amend himself. That is what schools and teachers do for the community.
